FOREWORD

WITH the appearance of this, the fifty-ninth edition of the Olla Podrida, most of us will be about to enter the Armed Forces. Though our future is at best uncertain, we are confident that we shall accomplish our share in overcoming any problems that might confront us. It is our hope that this Olla Pod will remain as a symbol of time well spent in comradeship and study which will keep the Class of 1943 united forever.

HEAD MASTER'S MESSAGE

A YEAR ago, when I addressed my valedictory remarks to your predecessors of the Class of 1942, we were approaching the end of a still fairly normal year. With the fact of war we were familiar. We read about it in the newspapers, listened to the radio pundits deliver the last word about it (till the contradictions of the morrow), and talked about it in season and out. But it did not touch us much as an institution. We could only guess what the war might mean to us.

You of the Class of 1943 have begun to find out. With the lowering of the draft age last November, the war entered the gates of Lawrenceville, to stay until the fighting stops. And part of Lawrenceville went out to make the war our own. Members of the faculty laid down the tools of their trade and joined the services. Letters from all the fighting fronts spoke of Laurentians wherever our cause was being fought for; and we knew that their allegiance to the cause had been forged partly in the corridors and classrooms which we were still inhabiting. As the numbers on the service flag increased and the gold stars began to multiply, it sometimes seemed to us as if the war were a Lawrenceville war. Everything we have done here this year has been done in the daily consciousness of war and in the atmosphere with which war has surrounded us.

You knew no precedent for most of it. The Work Program burst upon you full-armed, but almost at once you began to wield your tools like veterans, after you had recovered from your early impression that they were dueling weapons. Your excitement at seeing members of the faculty also work (an activity with which you had never associated them in your various thoughts about them) lent zest to your labors. In Carter Stovall you produced the Program's chief public expositor, whose remarks treated the faculty more indulgently than they could reasonably have expected.

After the first of the year you caused the Head Master to abandon his usual occupation and become Lawrenceville's chief war information centre, a position made difficult by the Navy's extraordinary gift for changing its mind, so that the certainties of today became the lost opportunities of tomorrow. At times your reactions indicated your suspicion that this was basically MY FAULT. But we managed to swear in a number of you as members of V-1, though the needs of the service required John Confort to wear mittens for several days in order to qualify. Since then the Marines, the Army and Navy Air Forces, and the Mountain Troops have received the benefit of your attention, not to mention such nebulous and uncertain organizations as V-12 and A-12. It is my suspicion (and I am rather proud of it) that a larger proportion of your membership have arranged their military future than in any other similar school.

By way of more conventional distinction your class has produced the mad race between Bill Umstattd and Jim Hawthorne for top scholastic honors; the Shakespearean prowess of Fred Buechner, Bill Umstattd, and Barry Doig (full name on request); a quite extraordinary Literary Magazine under Pete Forcey, with the exceptional poetic talent of Buechner and Jim Merrill to distinguish it; and the able Lawrence editorship of Bill Patten.

You provided most of the talent of a great football team, sparked by John Grymes, who could see where he was going even without his glasses, and captained by Mike Decker, conceded to be Lawrenceville's best leader in many years.

You have been led with firmness and discretion by Prince DeBardeleben, whose manner of speech has become intelligible even to foreigners from outside Alabama. He and his fellow officers and councilmen have made my lot unusually easy. They have bothered me little, and I hope my feeling toward them is reciprocated.

It was hard to part company with those of your number who moved on in February to college: an unprecedented event in the history of Lawrenceville. Stress and strain preceded their departure; but we were proud of their achievement and glad to help them on.

Americans ordinarily don't like being joggled and you have been joggled more since last November than any Lawrenceville class in twenty-five years. It will gratify you to know that I think you have worked harder and had more to do than any other class in Lawrenceville's history. I have remarked before but wish to repeat myself in print that you have kept your poise and your perspective to a quite extraordinary degree. Your midyear record in scholarship topped your predecessors by nearly four points. At the third quarterly rating just past as I write, your scholarship has set an all-time record: the full permitted quota of Cum Laude has been filled, which has never happened before till the end of the academic year. You have attended to your business when your country needed most your industry and application, and you have a right to feel that the admiration your masters have for you is well merited.

We are too close to the events of the past year to venture a final evaluation. I am ready to say, however, that in my opinion there has been more sense of reality, more solid strength, a clearer perception of values at Lawrenceville this year than I have ever known. You and we have lived together through a year of disaster and destruction. I hope we have learned something from it. The School is devoted to the task of cultivating men, of giving them the foundation and a citizenship based on service rather than on gain. You are about to be asked to pledge your service to your country at the risk of paying the highest price that men can pay for liberty and honor. As you leave us to carry on the work which you have helped us to do I could wish your harsh duty to be in no worthier hands. You have done credit to your school and to yourselves and you will do credit to your country.

We shall watch your progress anxiously, hopefully, and affectionately. With a depth of emotion which I shall always feel for you particularly, I wish you Godspeed.

CLASS OF 1943

CLASS HISTORY

HE was sitting in his room and his duffle bag was beside him on the floor. In an hour now he would get his wings and then—but he didn't know what lay ahead. He had only been told to be ready. He was full of anticipation, and within him stirred a feeling that he knew he had sensed before. As he picked up his diary and idly flipped the pages before throwing it in, he remembered when he first felt this way; and as he read of his last graduation, he was enveloped in a wave of memories which fluttered up from the book to overwhelm him. . . .

There was an awfully warm fall that year and it seemed that summer had only started when he found himself back in a school much changed since he left it three months before. It was a surprise to find that a war course in navigation or in some other field was compulsory. He was amazed when he found that he was a virtual slave to Sals Adams as the labor "Czar" took control of the work program. But it was good to get back to see all the fellows and watch football practice. The team looked as if it might be good. Captain Decker had a good bit of new material which added a lot to the strength of the returning men. The term was soon under way and Bill Patten was operating on The Lawrence. The Program had produced a bigger and better Rhinie Bible, and word was going around that Pete Forcey was trying to get material for the Lit. The choir and glee club were in full swing and the Esplanade "cowboys" were giving their best harmony in defiance to many a bucket of water from above. Dick Gaines soon captured the crown of Esplanade tennis champ and held his title through many a tough fight. As soon as possible the form elections were held and Prince DeBardeleben was cheered into the office of president, Bill Ylvisaker vice president, and Joel Hawke, treasurer. Decker and Eyre represented Hamill and Kinnan and the student council soon had charge of the school. The Periwig Club was preparing for its Father's Day production and "Doc" Dew was to be seen working with the rest of the board to get the new stage ready for "Criminal At Large." The whole school was keyed up as the football team downed Hill and then went on to finish the first undefeated season in seventeen years. The feed that Jim threw for the team expressed the sentiments of everyone. The Soccer team had its highlight when it almost beat Trenton, the state champions, but lost by a last quarter score 2-1.

And then came the horrible news that there would be no Thanksgiving Recess for those who traveled by train, and most of the school ate its first turkey in Lawrenceville; and enjoyed the rest.

It was hardly a week before Christmas was approaching and Francis B. Sayre, L '04, gave the best Forum Lecture of the year when he told us of possible plans for the post-war world. And then it was the night before Christmas and it was one of those beautiful clear nights that are so rare. It was really wonderful to sit in the chapel and hear the choir with no worries for the next day's classes, but it was a little solemn as everyone saw that there were seven gold stars on the memorial flag—The next day the school was empty.

The New Jersey silence was broken by the sound of taxis moving up in front of the Esplanade and the usual questions which follow a vacation were flung back and forth. No one could get his mind off the parties he had enjoyed, or the girls he had seen.

43 Olla Podrida 43

The Army and Navy began to get a grip on the school as the first fellows had been sworn into V-1 and others began to feel the draft. The next few weeks up until mid-years were filled with decisions and many entered V-1 while others decided to leave school for college. Then V-1 closed to all those not in college by March and many more made the decision to leave. The draft took its toll too as "Stew" Hopkins, Paul Porter and "Sheep" Shearman were taken.

The winter sports were under way in no time and the showers revealed a new trend toward tattoos which Tuck seemed to favor over peroxided hair. Captains Davis and Craig were being optimistic about their material while Dorflinger and Ross were satisfied as things stood. Hockey had been pretty indefinite but with a lot of persuasion it had been continued and everyone was glad. At this time Confort and Hunt were neck and neck in their letter race but "Comf" was a little outclassed and he was left in the dust. Hunt was only three short of a hundred letters received since the beginning of school when he left for college.

"Crawf" Johnson was to be heard screaming about this time when he found that his one and only was to be married, but he soon had company, for "Del" Fuller suffered the same fate.

The Esplanade had got a little cold for singing, but "Bud" Morrow was not to be stumped as he petitioned his pals "come on up and we'll talk the whole thing over."

And no one really appreciated "Robson" Owsley until it was impossible to escape his voice, and all went along the house suffered in polite silence. We first began to suspect that "Jeff" Doyle wrote L'43 when he spoke of "Especially for you" Karno as a mashed potato. He later admitted it and was kidded about mentioning Club 6 so much.

Upper was almost as quiet as a tomb as mid-years grew nearer and "Grinder" Stanley led the attack on the books, as bets were placed on Umstattd and Hawthorne as to who would lead the form. When the grades came out Ummy's 98 in English had pulled him through and the form as a whole did well. After the long week-end following, Kinnan was closed because so many of the boys had left school.

It was sad news to hear that the winter prom had to be called off, but the transportation problem was really serious. The Periwig gave its performance nevertheless and "Julius Caesar" in modern dress, proved a success.

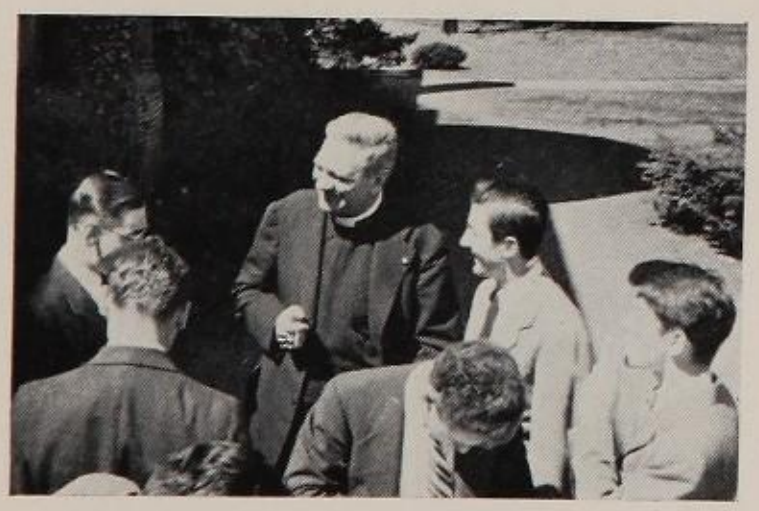
As the snow, rain, and slush alternately came and went, spring drew ever nearer and the winter teams were winding up their seasons in the various sports. After a few tight squeezes the basketball five downed Hill 40-38 to top their season with a thrilling game. The swimmers were brought into prominence when two ex-Lawrentians in Yale helped to break the U.S. 150 yd. medley-relay record against them. After Craig left for Princeton, Don Charles was elected captain and under him the team finished its meets. The wrestlers had a fair season and Captain Ross was undefeated through the year to set a good example for the rest of his team. The Hockey team did not fare so well in the number of games won but it was a good moral victory in more ways than one to beat Peddie in the last game.

On the circle a new substitute for the prom was found as Mr. Keller organized a Glee Club dance with Miss Fine's School and Doig stole the whole show for the amazing price of a quarter.

It was not very widely acclaimed but the Lit won the distinction of being chosen the best Prep School Literary Magazine in the country. Although few could comprehend "looking down into the upness of it all," all those who wrote for the magazine deserve much credit.

A great sigh of relief was repeated over and over again as the underformers took over the publications. With nothing to do but study, the spring term promised to be a lark for those who had been working in this field. For some unknown reason the noise in Upper increased.

The O.P.A. had changed its system again and leaving for Spring vacation was an ordeal as ration books were distributed and coupons collected. If he lost this book, he didn't eat for three months. The gas situation was plenty tough, too—you couldn't do much on a gallon and a half a week. Everyone expected to rest. . . .



The transformation that those two weeks made was amazing. The weather was still cold but everyone was feeling his oats. Talk of the past vacation went on and on and the chances for a Spring prom were debated. Unusual sounds came from Hunt Bright's and "Dashing" Dave Clarendon's rooms as they played "string" and "squeeze" boxes respectively. It was generally agreed though that Hunt's noises were much the stranger.

In the face of spring everyone began to miss the old Petty pictures and Ikeda found demands for his drawings decreasing. Bosworth refused to give up his sketches, but after a little of Mr. Wyman's persuasion he finally gave in.

And then with a jolt, the A-12, V-12, and college boards, mixed with quarterly tests, hit the Form. There were groans from every quarter and the boys who took Spatial Relations had cramps in their necks for days from trying to find the hidden blocks in their exam. Everyone felt sure that the blackout the night before the College Boards helped his grades tremendously.

The glad news finally came . . . there was to be a prom—and Lloyd's agency for blind dates was soon in full swing. In an attempt to break the record for the number of girls attending, even "Snooffer Zan" Giltinan was writing home to get a date. Mr. Harris' spring show promised to be a good one and members of the glee club and choir could be heard singing the new songs on the Esplanade. Johnny McGee and Roland Earnest were announced as the bands to play for the dance, and everyone looked forward to a swell prom. It proved to be better than that.

As the days grew longer and the movies later, Jackson and Neely could be heard swinging it out with the band in the gym, with Russ Candee taking a drum break every now and then. More romantic weather gave a big boost to Schmertz' mail route and he was thinking of taking out a government license for a while but he never got around to it. Swan and Franzheim were planning to rival Charles Atlas but after a few days of suffering the effects of over-exertion they gave it up. Sawyer and Atwood took up where they left off and the gym in Club "47" proved a success.

The Pipe and Quill was in full swing as it took in its last members; and the Bibliophiles was hard at work watching the library, a new job for it this year. The leaves were just coming out on all the trees around the campus and tea at the Heely's was getting pleasanter as more boys were able to drop in.

And then the term was drawing to an end and commencement was just ahead. He had begun to realize that it would be a long time before he would see the school again, and he had felt like thanking Mr. Churchill and Mr. Rastede and

Mr. Wyman for the help and encouragement they had given him during the year, but he hadn't known just how to go about doing it. The Heelys had been swell all year, too, and it had been really fun to sing with them after chapel over a cup of bouillon.

And then came that fateful day as he walked up the long aisle to get his diploma and then he'd walked down again and realized that now he . . . but he didn't know exactly what he was going to do because he didn't know what lay ahead. . . . That thought brought him back to reality and he slowly closed his book. Outside the sun shone just as brightly as it had before, and then from the distance of the hangars he heard the bugle call him to parade. As he gathered his thoughts he drew the strings over his book and then squaring his shoulders, he walked swiftly out of the room and into the sunlight outside. . . .

CLASS POEM

Today begins so soon to be tomorrow,
And these, my words, will be so soon a piece
Of yesterday, that were it not that sorrow
Is a useless thing, I would be sad and cease
To live the present, and become the past.
To weep is to remember; to laugh is to forget.
Gathered here, we feel we give a last
Farewell. There is finality in our regret;
We want to say goodbye, and not look back
At what we leave and love—but quickly leap
Ahead, forgetting faces, voices, Red and Black,
Before remembering can hurt too deep.
We have been called a generation cursed—
One doomed to pay in blood our fathers' sins;
We walk a road our fathers, too, traversed,
And where the father ends, the son begins.
We mourn our Fate—Fate is so often mourned—
Forgetting that we, too, shall have the chance
To build another world. We are forewarned.
And tired eyes will watch their sons advance.
To build the world again! Five simple words
On which Man builds his Hope, and breaks his Heart,
For which the mightiest warrior ungirds
And dons his sword again. Words of which God is part.
We, too, will make the world again, we say;
Our children, asked to write some farewell verse
Will never have to speak of blood, and sin; today
We never think tomorrow can be worse.
The "good old days" are always very old,
The present is not good till it is past,
The future will be good, we think. Behold!
Man's pessimism, and his hope, go unsurpassed.
About this future there is much we know—
There will be sun, and light, forgiving rain,
The secret softness of the silent snow,
A woman's laughter, and the cry of pain.

43 Olla Podrida 43

And then there will be change, and spirals of new thought,
The rule of unborn men who will arrange new wars
That youth will have to fight, as this one now is fought—
But you know all of this, and I shall say no more.
If, as most poets do, I must present a key
To life, or something, I shall bravely grope
To find some word, not strange, not new, to be Advice and comfort. The word, I think, is Hope.
Remember, too, that Life is very good,
And that to live is better than to die,
Life should be wondered at, not understood;
Remember Love. God bless you all. Goodbye.

CLEVE HOUSE HISTORY

THE aspect of leaner days to come and much harder rationing of all commodities does not seem to have dampened the spirits of the boys at War Lawrenceville, and certainly not in the Cleve House. President Chuck Burchenal and his council of John Twohy, Dick McConnell, Bob Klopman, and Jack Stewart have led Cleve in a determined fight for betterment in all fields.

In the spring last year, we won the Raymond Debate Cup through the masterful debating of Pete Forcey, John Sawyers, and Ralph Frost. Pete Forcey was also elected Editor-in-Chief of the Lit, and Sam Craig was elected Chairman of the Program Committee. Much to the delight of all, we returned to find we had won the coveted All-Round Trophy as well as the Head Master's Cup. Later on in the Fall, our house president of last year, Prince DeBardeleben, was elected by the Fifth Form as President of the School.

Sam Craig, Cleve's pitcher-captain in baseball last Spring, skillfully jockeyed his team into third place, much to the surprise of everyone. Cleve contributed John Bosworth to the all-house baseball team. Captains Wes Curtis and Chuck Burchenal of golf and tennis respectively, brought us two comfortable seconds.

Our football team last Fall had what might be called a fair season, taking into consideration the large number of injuries incurred. Much praise should go to our captain, Chuck Burchenal, for the hard fighting spirit he instilled in his team.

Cleve's soccer squad, led by John Twohy, fought hard all season but lost every game.

The determination and fight of the Cleve boys this year culminated in the basketball championship. Our able captain, Dave Mackintosh, led his team through an undefeated season, thus putting himself, Charlie Highley, and Rudy Clemen on the all-house team.

In the field of Varsity Sports, Chuck Burchenal and John Twohy won Major "L's" in baseball and football respectively, while we had a number of numeral winners in the house.

Cleve contributed many boys to the extra-curricular activities, such as Mackintosh, Sports Editor of the Lawrence, and John Twohy, Vice-President of the Periwig Club. Besides these, we had quite a few more on the Periwig, the Lawrence, and the Lit.

Scholastically Cleve did not do as well as might have been expected, but in time we improved and took our place among the other houses. Warren Nissley led the Fourth Form with a ninety average.

As a good-bye to Cleve, the boys join me in thanking the Raymonds and Mr. Winter for making this year one we shall never forget, no matter where our paths may lead us in these uncertain days.

DICKINSON HOUSE

DICKINSON HOUSE HISTORY

UNDER the capable guidance of our house President, Bob McDougal and the council consisting of Bob Poor, Mike Clark, Don Whitlock, and Bob Cole, the Dickinson House quickly began to progress. Track season ended with three boys on the All-House Team, Jim Blake, Larry Bowen, and Joel Hawke. In baseball Bud McDougal and Larry McNeill were All-House. On the Varsity teams last spring, Bud McDougal was a baseball pitcher while Blake, Lathrop, and Haff excelled for the School in track. This fall our football team was unscored upon until its last game which we lost, costing us the championship. Bob Poor, Larry Bowen, Dave McMillan, Mike Clark, and Billy McWane were on the All-House Team. Finishing this well in football, we carried on our triumphs into the soccer season. We finished in first place, and thus added another well-earned trophy to our collection. Bob Poor, Bill McWane, Mike Clark, and Vic Traub made All-House.

Dickinson House had a fine showing also on the varsity teams. In football, Bud McDougal and Larry McNeill were awarded their major letters, while Jim Haff and Bud Schirmer gained their numerals. Schirmer, Clark, Taylor, Young, and Jones were varsity swimmers, while McDougal and Clement were members of the basketball and fencing teams respectively. Wrestling season found six of our boys on the mat squad; Bob Cole, who finished the season undefeated, Larry McNeill, Lawson-Johnston, Jim Haff, John Kahner, and Dave McMillan.

As usual, Dickinson was well represented in the field of extra-curricular activities with Bob Hamill, Fred Lathrop, Dick Neiley, Bob Poor, Philo Smith and Dick Conger on the Lawrence. Bob Cole, Al Robinson, Larry Thaw, and Don Whitlock, this year's student leader, are members of the Glee Club and the Choir. Cole and Hancock are members of the Orchestra and Band with Lawson-Johnston the drum-major of the Band. Al Robinson, Dick Conger, Bob Hamill, and Bliss Clement are members of the Periwig. John Webster and Bob Hamill are Olla Podrida members, and Ferris Brogan is a member of the Spanish Club.

We all wish to express our deepest thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Keller for the perfect guidance and friendship which they have given us this year. As many of us will be entering the Armed Forces in June, we wish to say good-bye to all those who helped us make this year a success, and hope they will carry on for us next year.

GRISWOLD HOUSE

GRISWOLD HOUSE HISTORY

UPON the commencement of another school year, returning Griswoldites found their house, under President Don Hyde and his council, Vice-President Henry Picoli, Secretary-Treasurer Manuel Silveira, and councilmen Bay Tilden and Ed Meredith, off to an excellent scholastic start. This proved to be no false impression when we earned the coveted Circle House Scholarship Cup at Mid-year.

The baseball team got off to a rather slow start last spring. Although somewhat inexperienced, under the skillful coaching of Mr. Peck and the leadership of Bob Gefaell, it steadily improved throughout the season. Sparked by the snappy play of Don Hyde, their one victory was over the championship Kennedy team.

The football team under Captain Thompson produced a rather mediocre season this fall, but excellent sportsmanship and spirit prevailed.

Led by Captain George Shaw and coached by Henry Picoli and Ed Meredith, the soccer team had a successful season, winning three games and losing two by the closest of margins. George Shaw and Don Hyde were elected to the All-House Soccer Team, and the team as a whole played with Griswold's usual spirit of fairness and cooperation.

Dick Davis' house basketball team, captained by Bill Miller, has done fairly well, having won two out of four games. We are confident that its fine work will continue.

Well represented in School sports, we had Captain Ed Meredith, Henry Picoli, Frank Dyckman, George Shaw, and Don Fuller on the soccer team, with Don Hyde and "Moose" Foster on the football squad. In addition to playing football, Foster was also a member of the School basketball squad. Bay Tilden is the captain of fencing; whereas Bill Miller and Don Hyde are on the hockey team and Sam Clark is a member of the swimming squad. Bill Hunter and Bay Tilden were managers of the School football and baseball teams respectively.

In the field of extra-curricular activities, we find John Atwood, Bay Tilden, and Ross Claiborne working with the Periwig Club, and both Campbell Symonds and Pete Hukill are ardent members of the Photography Club. Manuel Silveira was elected secretary of the Spanish Club, and Tom Leggett is a member of the School Orchestra. Bob ToeWater, Sam Clark, Don Fuller, Don Hyde, Ross Claiborne, and Ed Meredith are members of the Glee Club and the first three are also members of the Choir. Bill Drake, Frank Dyckman, and Alan Kennedy have been outstanding in scholarship.

With the utmost sincerity, we wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. Wells and Mr. Easterline for their untiring guidance throughout the year.

Bay Tilden, Historians

KENNEDY HOUSE HISTORY

THIRTY-SIX boys came to Kennedy House last autumn to find a house council consisting of Pete Biggs, President, Bill Heath, Vice-President, and Neil Smythe, Treasurer. Soon after the beginning of the year, Pete Gellert was elected Historian and Moe Kinnan the Rhinie Representative.

Last Spring the track team, captained by John Hunt, captured first place by winning the relay on the final day of the meet. The baseball team, led by John Confort, won the championship by defeating Dawes in a play-off game. Biggs and Schmidt earned Major "L's" on the Varsity Baseball squad.

This year we have not been so successful in house athletics. In football our team, led by Bill Bennett, was composed of rather green material, and was seriously hampered by injuries. Consequently, it could do no better than tie for fourth place. Kadel, Bennett and Kinnan made the All-House team. McKee received a Major "L" and Heath a Minor in Varsity Football, while Biggs was awarded a major letter in Soccer.

Our soccer team was hard fighting, but was able to win only one game. Captain Heath was our only representative on the All-House team. In basketball the Kennedy team was led by George Kadel and was able to win only one game. Both these teams finished in fifth place.

Biggs and McKee received major "L's" in basketball; McKee was elected captain of next year's team. Shakespeare and Cutting received major awards in swimming and hockey respectively and were both chosen as next year's captains of their teams.

Many boys are taking part in extra-curricular activities. Stanley is a member of the Periwig; Kinnan is a member of the Choir, and he, Booth, and Cumberland are members of the Glee Club. Cumberland is a member of the Orchestra, while Flemer is the manager of it.

We have climbed from sixth to second place in scholastic standing, and at mid-years we had three boys on the honor roll, Stanley, Smythe, and Gellert.

Mr. Heyniger, our popular assistant housemaster, left after mid-years to join the Army. We were all very sorry to see him go and wish him the best of luck.

We all wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. Chivers for their help in making this such a pleasant and profitable year.

RAYMOND HOUSE HISTORY

THOUGH only eleven boys returned from last year's group, thirty-one Rhinies descended upon the house in September, and because the Dawes House was closed, Bob Dalzell and Bill Allsopp were transferred to the Raymond. The latter captained the football team, which was coached by Mr. Gartner to a spotless record of five victories and the Circle Championship. Captain Allsopp, Andy Eberstadt, Bill Mahler, and Bill Brown won places on the All-House team. The soccer team, led by Bill Brown, was less successful with a tie for third place with Griswold, and, still going downhill, Captain Rionda's team brought up the rear in the House basketball league. In last spring's athletics, we were eliminated in the first round of both golf and tennis. In the inter-house track meet, we tied for fifth place with Dawes, and in baseball we again tied Griswold, but this time for last place.

The council this year consisted of Bruce Brown, president, Rodney Armstrong, vice-president, and Bill Brown and Sam Wright, secretary-treasurer and historian, respectively. Ray Beagle, next year's varsity football captain, was elected Rhinie representative.

But to deviate from the sublime to the ridiculous, it seems only correct that a few of the so-called "characters" of the house be enumerated. Not with the idea of malice, but with the hope that at some future time if these few are called to mind, the rest of the 1942-'43 Raymond House will also be remembered. Howdy Hart finally banged his way into the Swing Band after he had recovered his purloined drumsticks. Oscar Gumercincindo Carpio popped up at Raymond from the darkest corner of South America. Rod Armstrong and John Daughtridge shuffled in, at the same time, from the deep, dark South. With great agility, the "dash" from Bolivia, Senator Altshuler, managed the soccer team. There are also Jay LeFevre, Bob Crawford, Jim Neely, and others that have added many a good time during the year.

And in closing, it is only fitting and proper that we express our sincere appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Tiihonen and Dr. Diehl for their patience and geniality which they have shown throughout the year.

WOODHULL HOUSE HISTORY

UNDER the difficulties presented by the first full year at war, Woodhull has borne its added burdens, and has emerged with proof of a successful year.

With a competent council consisting of Porter, Soriano, Murphy, Belli, and Ifft, Woodhull prepared to take up its new responsibilities. Mr. Coan came as the assistant housemaster, filling the vacancy left by Mr. Cass, who is now a lieutenant in the Navy. Sylvester and Fuller came to us from Dawes.

Going back to last Spring, Woodhull struggled through a mediocre track season, and Captain Galbraith sparked his Baseball team into third place. Porter made all-house. Ylvisaker was last year's Varsity Tennis captain, and both he and Cavalier were outstanding in that sport.

The Fall term found Woodhull narrowly missing the coveted All-Round Trophy. In the Fall sports Woodhull ended its football season in third place, and Dresdner and Belli made all-house; Murphy made his numerals on the varsity. Captain Soriano led his soccer team to an exciting Championship Tie, and he, Smith, and Belli made all-house. Porter earned a Major "L" and Smith his numerals in varsity soccer.

During the Winter term the basketball team lost its important game in the closing seconds, and finished in second place. Wallis, Fuller, and Porter won their numerals on the varsity basketball squad. Schoenberg won a Major "L" in swimming, and Hains a minor. Sylvester got his Major "L" in hockey and Cleary his numerals.

Woodhull also distinguished itself in extra-curricular fields. On the Lawrence, Schoenberg is assignment manager; Belli, business manager; Murdock, assistant business manager; and Hains, circulation manager. Sanz and Dresdner are also on the business board; Dresdner is the business manager of the Program. Ifft and Fuller have been elected to the Press Club. Murphy is in the choir; and he, Schoenberg, Hains, and Robertshaw are on the Glee Club. Pittis, Smith, Dresdner, Meyer, and Westlake are in the Orchestra. Buechner and Bois are members of the Periwig Club.

At the end of the first semester, Woodhull was in second place in the scholastic standing of the Circle Houses. Meyer, Schoenberg, and Hayden had honor averages at this time.

Our thanks go to Mr. Coan, who has shown constant interest in us; to Mr. Bowman, Mr. Cass, Mr. Harris, Del Fuller, Bill Ylvisaker, Ken Schmertz, and Joe Bird, who coached our teams.

From us who are leaving, and from those who remain, to Dr. and Mrs. Harwood our sincere gratitude for a very happy year!

VARSITY FOOTBALL SEASON, 1942

Capt. Decker

THE 1942 Lawrenceville football team, under the inspiring leadership of Captain Mike Decker and the superb coaching of Mr. Tiihonen and Mr. Schonheiter, completed its six game schedule undefeated and untied for the first time since 1925. Amassing 121 points to 45 for their opponents, the Lawrentians bowled over both their major rivals, Hill and Choate.

The Red and Black opened the season against Newark Academy with a veteran lineup except for Dick Hollingshead at tackle, Ray Beagle at fullback and Johnny McKee at center. After Newark had scored first and led 12-7 at the half, Johnny Grymes went to town against his old mates to chalk up three touchdowns. Dick Davis tallied the other, and Ylvisaker kicked three extra points. The final score read: Lawrenceville, 27—Newark, 12.

The next game was with Haverford. An older and heavier team gave the Lawrentians a hard battle before succumbing, 12-0. Jack Hartnett, another fine rhinie back, and guard Chuck Ross went over for the scores.

In a blinding rainstorm, the Black and Red eleven steam-rollered to a 28-0 victory over the Princeton Third Varsity, a squad made up for the most part of freshmen. Grymes and Davis each chalked up two touchdowns, while Ylvisaker booted two extra points and Schmertz tackled a Tiger back in the end zone for a safety.

After a week of needed rest, the School eleven journeyed to Pottstown to meet their old rival, the Hill. In a see-saw, wildly exciting game, the home crowd saw the Lawrentians triumph 26-16 for the first win in four years. The shirt remained unwashed as Grymes scored twice, once on an 85-yard run, and Hartnett and Ylvisaker each tallied once.

The Choate contest followed on Fathers' weekend, and before a large crowd the School team came from behind to defeat the previously unbeaten Choate eleven 14-7. Grymes and Hartnett registered the Lawrenceville touchdowns while Ylvisaker kicked the two extra points.

The Red and Black closed the season by edging out Peddie 14-13 at Hightstown as a result of Bill Ylvisaker's two all-important extra point placements. Johnny Grymes tallied both Lawrenceville touchdowns.

A great many factors were involved in the production of the first unbeaten and untied season since 1925. In the first place, Coach Tiihonen had a veteran squad. With Stew Hopkins and Prince DeBardeleben as starting ends, and Bud McDougal and Ken Schmertz in reserve, the team was set for wingmen. Joel Hawke and Dick Hollingshead were pillars of strength at the tackle slots, with Hunt Bright an able substitute. Captain Decker, switched from tackle, and Chuck Ross filled the guard positions, backed by John Twohy. Johnny McKee made one of Lawrenceville's best centers. Backing up the line, he was an immovable object. Larry McNeill filled in capably for him. The starting backfield for most of the season was Dick Davis at quarterback, Johnny Grymes and Bill Ylvisaker at the halves, and Ray Beagle at fullback. Jack Hartnett saw as much action however as any of these four. Davis passed, kicked, and ran well. Grymes was about the greatest runner since LeVan, and Ylvisaker's place kicking and blocking were invaluable. Beagle, captain-elect for 1943, supplied needed line plunging and blocking. Jack Hartnett was a brilliant runner with great driving power, an equally brilliant quarterback and surpassed in speed only by Grymes.

In all, it was a well-coached, smooth-functioning, heads-up team, which went through a rigorous schedule undefeated despite serious injuries at one time or another. To Mr. Tiihonen, Captain Decker, and the entire team, the class of 1943 offers its hearty congratulations for a great season.

VARSITY SOCCER SEASON, 1942

Capt. Meredith

FORCING the State Champions of Trenton to come from behind in the final stages to maintain their unblemished record provided the soccer team with its foremost measure of success this year. Otherwise, aside from two victories, over Peddie and George, the season proved somewhat disappointing. Five games were lost, furnishing the team with a rather unenviable record. The manner in which these contests were decided provides considerable solace, however. Led by Captain Ed Meredith, who performed excellently throughout the season at fullback, the team presented such worthy opposition that a break here and there might have made all the difference in the world. In the main, it may be said that the team, while possessing such great defensive stars as goalie Bosworth and Captain Meredith, lacked a scoring punch. Frequently fine passing and teamwork brought the ball to the opposing goalmouth, but rarely beyond.

The season opened auspiciously against George School. Fine work on the part of the halfbacks resulted in constant threatening of the opposing goal, but a resolute George defense prevented an actual score. Jack Leh, however, provided our initial counter in the third period, and Bill Phelps repeated soon afterward, completing the scoring at 2-0.

Haverford was the first conqueror of the home forces in a close encounter, 1-0. Although both sides threatened frequently, no scoring occurred until early in the fourth quarter, when Haverford broke the deadlock with what proved to be the game's lone goal.

The contest with the Princeton 3rds provided an example wherein a few favorable breaks and perhaps a drier field might conceivably have changed the outcome. As it was, Lawrenceville seized an early advantage in the opening quarter when Phelps capitalized on Ross' pass. Thus it remained until superior size and experience furnished three quick Tiger goals, leaving the final score 3-1.

The failure of numerous scoring opportunities to materialize resulted in our loss to an alert Trenton Catholic opponent. Soriano, of Lawrenceville, scored on a rebound in the opening quarter to deadlock the count at 1-1 after an earlier Trenton thrust had succeeded. Thus it remained until two quick goals in the final period spelled our defeat, 3-1.

The following contest resulted in a much-needed victory over Peddie, 2-0. Excellent play by defensemen Biggs, Adams, and Meredith maintained constant pressure on the Peddie goal, although no scoring occurred during the first half. However, a heated mixup in the opposing goalmouth culminated in a score by Phelps in the final period. Again, shortly thereafter, Geyelin capitalized on much the same sort of opportunity.

A powerful and cohesive Penn Freshman unit then made off with an easy victory, 5-0. Superior play and greater size prevailed throughout, and in no way was our offense enabled to penetrate a strong opposing defense.

Then followed the unexpectedly thrilling encounter with the highly-regarded State Champions, Trenton High. The play of the underdog Lawrentians in general and of goalie Bosworth in particular drew widespread praise. Biggs, tall Lawrenceville halfback, set in motion a play which materialized when Geyelin drove the ball between the uprights. Later, a long effort by center-half Cornish was barely turned aside by the opposing goalie. In the second half, Trenton brought continual pressure to bear on goalie Bosworth, who responded with several amazing saves. Finally, however, the inevitable occurred, and two quick goals crushed the team's hopes for a rousing upset.

A number of unfortunate breaks resulted in a heart-rending loss to Hill in the final game. The contest's lone score came in the 3rd quarter when Bosworth was beaten on a rebound. Several times we came within an ace of tying the score, and two apparent goals were nullified in view of penalties. Phelps and Ross, halfback, performed creditably, and the former had the misfortune of seeing a potential goal called back, and a hard shot bounce off the uprights.

The individual members of the squad support me wholeheartedly in praising the generalship and instruction of coaches Shea and Rosner.

VARSITY BASKETBALL, 1942-1943

Capt. Davis

BRILLIANT comeback victories over the Horace Mann and Hill Schools after a severe middle-season slump provided the basketball team with its outstanding successes this year, as the final results showed seven wins out of a total of 12 games played. Outstanding leadership by Captain Davis, frequent scoring by John McKee and invaluable under-the-basket play by Pete Biggs were the outstanding contributions to the year's play, while Del Fuller more than once provided the impetus necessary for a winning comeback. A greater victory total might well have been achieved had not Jack Hartnett, Cappon, and Paul Porter left the team at various stages of the season.

We opened the season before Christmas against a Trenton Catholic five. Pete Biggs, shooting from all over, sparked the five to a 25-22 lead at half-time. An iron-bound defense throttled our shotmakers during the second half, however, and our opponents won going away, 46-36. Biggs and McKee led the scoring with 13 and 12 points, respectively.

Peddie provided the next opposition and absorbed a 43-23 trouncing in a contest which was all Lawrenceville. McKee emerged the big gun as far as offense was concerned with 12 points.

There followed our second win, over a previously unbeaten Hamilton High five, 43-36. The contest was tense in the closing minutes when our rivals began to find the range. However, 13 and 10 points by McKee and Hartnett provided too great a barrier against their efforts.

The Lawrentians were at their peak of performance when the following contest found them opposing distant Choate, and a 41-31 conquest ensued. Again McKee was outstanding, and this time with a season's high of 20 points.

Then came unexpected disaster at the hands of a driving Haverford contingent, 27-26, in a spine-tingling affair which saw a breath-taking rally on our part fall short by a matter of seconds.

A return to winning ways, minus the presence of Jack Hartnett, took place in our following engagement with George. Fine pivot-play marked the 35-26 triumph, and Pete Biggs thereby took scoring honors with 10 points.

COACH GARTNER

Manager Dew

Whereupon Del Fuller touched off the spark for a dramatic finish to a previously close contest with Blair. Del scored five points in the waning moments of the game which were enough to win, 31-25.

Very little need be said concerning the next affair. A smoothly-polished unit from Princeton was definitely on its game, and a 46-21 trouncing was thus absorbed at Old Nassau's hands. McKee threw in nine points, but it was no contest.

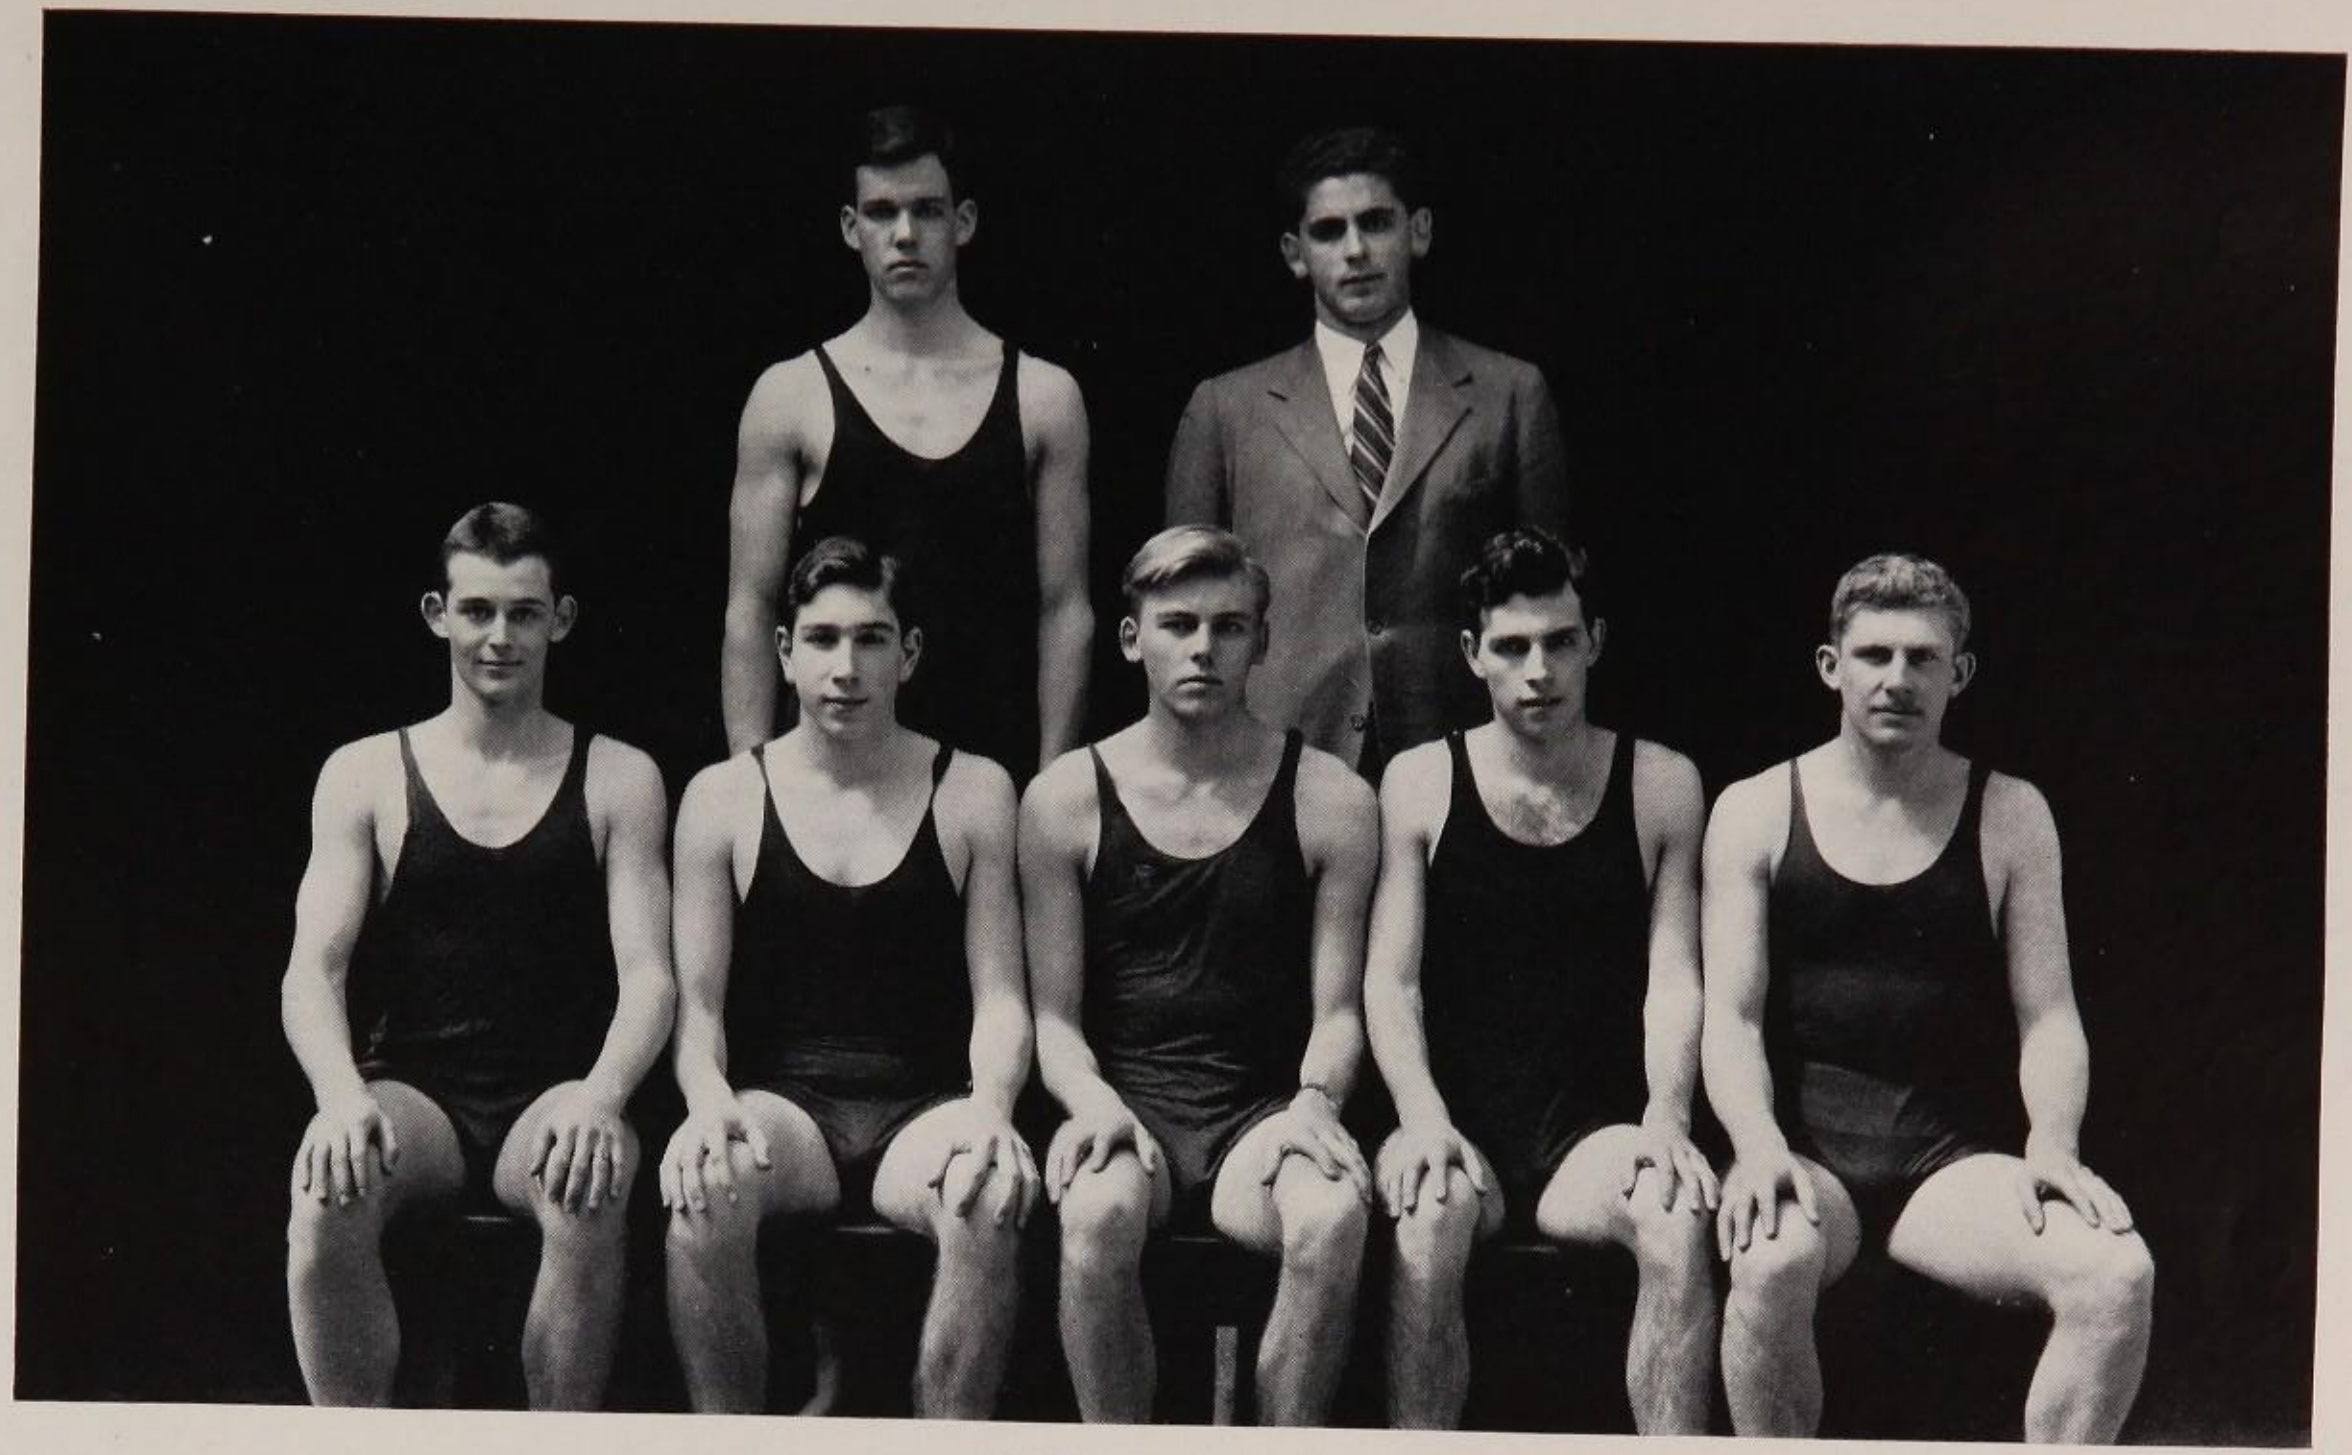
Poly Prep then administered a severe 45-24 rout as nothing seemed to be able to find its way into the opposing basket. However, McKee accumulated 12 points to his mounting total, and Davis, 9.

And the team slipped yet another notch to the tune of a 42-40 humbling at the hands of a previously-routed Peddie.

Lawrenceville emerged from this unfortunate level with a vengeance, however, in a meeting with a highly-rated Horace Mann five. With the team trailing by 11-7 at quarter time, the lid slipped off the basket and 19 points poured through the hoop, as McKee and Davis found the range with deadly accuracy. Biggs' contribution under the basket during this splurge was superlative. These factors more than offset a final rally by the visitors and provided us with a welcome 37-35 triumph.

Confident Hill, led by a giant 6:7 center, then arrived to provide the season with its climax. A new-style defense was devised by Coach Gartner to offset the advantage presented by this skyscraper, Oldham by name. And Captain Davis, charged with providing the main stopgap to the Hill offense, inspired the team to its outstanding performance. A thrilling first half ended with the home five clinging to a scant 23-22 margin. The heart-rending third period saw the visitors take over the lead and pull away to what seemed a comfortable margin, 32-27. Consecutive baskets by Biggs, Fuller, and McKee brought us back to an even keel, however, and, after much see-saw play, a solo basket by Del Fuller provided us with the victory and brought down the house.

Many thanks and much credit go to coaches Gartner and Hulit, the latter having replaced service-bound Mr. Goeller.



VARSITY SWIMMING

SWIMMING SEASON, 1942

Capt. Charles

IN contrast with the brilliant season of 1942, the 1943 swimming team had only fair success. However, not only did a great part of last year's point winners graduate, but the team was still further cut up by the departure of boys for college and the army, while several were ill during most of the season. Of all the teams which suffered this year because of boys leaving school, the swimming team suffered most.

To start the season off the team met its strongest opponent in the first meet as it swam the Yale Freshman team. On this Yale team were men who were soon swimming for the Yale Varsity. The meet was lost 47-19. Alan Ford and Brewster MacFadden took the Red and Black swimmers through their paces. The Lawrentians won only one first, the 200 yd. relay. Everson, Shakespeare, and Charles managed to place second, while Captain Craig, Hansen, and Brown took thirds. The best event of the meet proved to be the 150-yard medley relay, in which two former Lawrentians, MacFadden and Captain Smith of 1942 united with Alan Ford to break the United States record in the event.

The second meet found the team faring better as it downed Trenton High School 34-32. The Lawrentians won four firsts —Everson, Charles, and the two relay teams accounting for them. Captain Craig and Shakespeare won seconds, and Schoenberg took a third. Trenton was greatly superior in the sprints, but the relay teams won the meet for the Red and Black.

Blair was the third opponent, and unfortunately, the team was outclassed. Bad luck ran with the team this week though for Captain Craig left for Princeton just before the meet, and the newly elected captain, Charles, was unable to swim. Undoubtedly, if these two had been competing, the 37-29 score would have been different. The winners for Lawrenceville were Everson, Shakespeare, and the free style relay team, while Brown, Hains, and Hydeman took seconds, and Bryant, Schirmer, and Schoenberg thirds.

The second victory of the season came in the following meet when Haverford was downed, 35-31. Captain Charles was still out of the competition, but the rest of the team came through to win the fairly close meet. Everson, Shakespeare, and the 200-yard free style relay won firsts, just as they had the day before. Schoenberg, Hains, Brown, Ferris, and Hydeman took seconds; and Bryant, Schirmer, and Pfeifer won thirds.

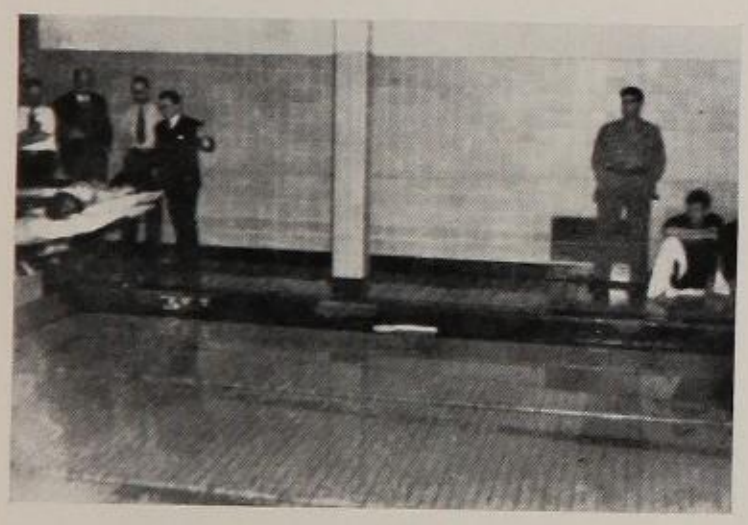
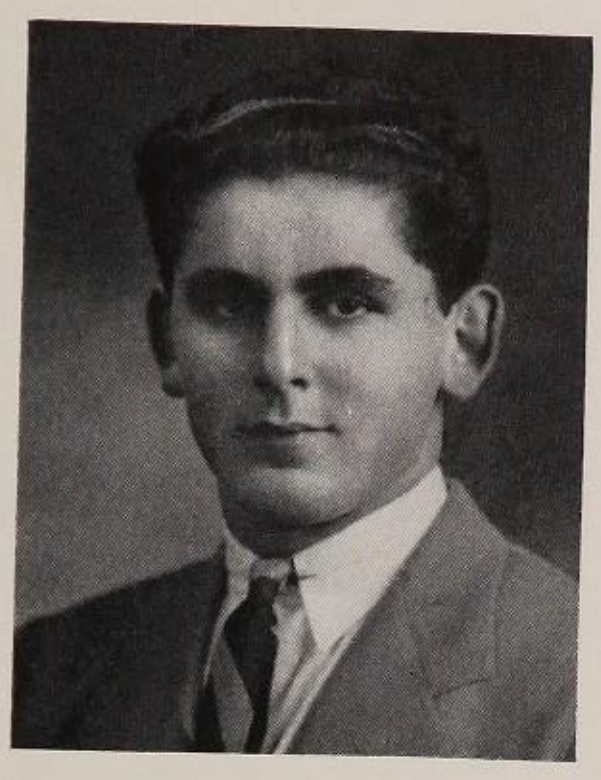
The Princeton meet, the team's second with a college group, proved almost as disastrous as the first as the Tigers won, 46-20. Shakespeare and the 200-yard relay team won firsts, Everson a second; and Schoenberg, Hains, Brown, Young, and Hydeman thirds. Craig swam on the Princeton team, winning first in the 100-yard free style.

A second meet with Trenton High was scheduled, but unfortunately the team did not fare as well as it did in the preceding meet. The final score was 45-21, as Everson and the 200-yard relay team won firsts, Brown and Shakespeare seconds, and Schoenberg, Hains and Ferris thirds.





Manager Confort

Charles and Craig swam in the first Trenton meet, but were out for this one, and this probably accounted for the great difference in the score.

The team won its third victory over Peddie, 34-32 to end the season as Ferris, Everson, Brown and Shakespeare won firsts, Hains and Hydeman seconds, and Decker, Klepper, Young, Taylor, and Pfeifer thirds.

The season could have been much worse, for the team won three of its five Prep School meets. With a little less bad luck, the season could have been good. Congratulations go to Mr. Estey for his coaching and to Shakespeare for his election as next year's captain.

VARSITY HOCKEY

HOCKEY SEASON, 1942-1943

Capt. Dorflinger

UNDER the excellent leadership of Captain Glen Dorflinger and the fine coaching of Mr. Vaughan, the hockey team enjoyed a fairly successful season, winning five games and losing six. Three of these defeats, however, came at the hands of Princeton, as the Lawrenceville six won five out of eight contests with other schools.

This year, squad members and their parents financed the season after hockey had been cut from the athletic budget because of it being an off-campus sport.

A squad of thirty-two candidates turned out with right wing and captain Dorflinger, center Dunc Roberts, goalie Jeff Doyle, and defenseman Bud Morrow, the returning lettermen, comprising the nucleus of the team.

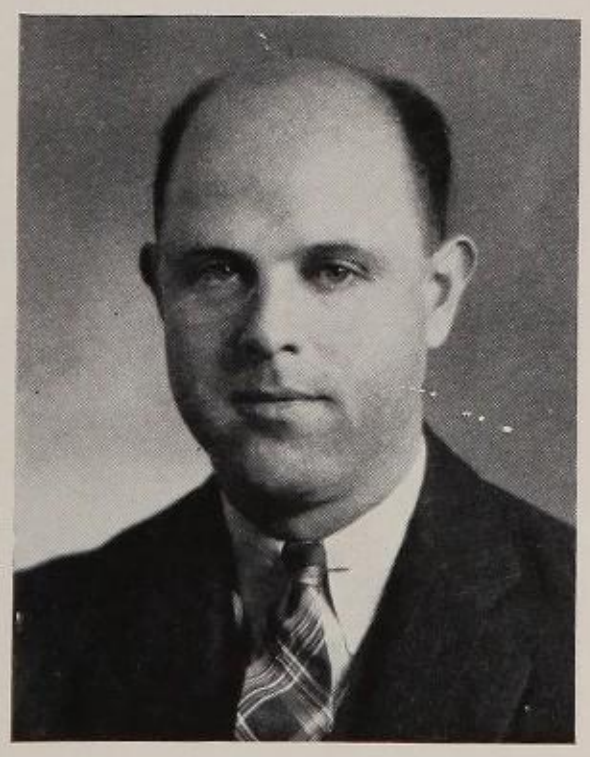
On December 14th, the Laurentians opened their schedule with the Gold and Blue of Peddie. A tight, low-scoring game ensued in which the Red and Black emerged the victors, 1-0.

Cranford High was next to be defeated, 3-0, as Lawrenceville tallied a goal in every period, Dorflinger scoring one and Rufe Cutting, two.

The Princeton Jayvees, anxious to gain revenge for the sensational 3-2 overtime upset win turned in by the 1942 Laurentians, eked out a 2-1 victory this year. The Red and Black led, 1-0, until late in the second period, after Dorflinger's goal in the opening stanza, desperately attempting to keep the older and more experienced Tigers from scoring. Constantly peppering goalie Doyle, the Jayvees at last broke through for a pair of markers and a 2-1 triumph.

Peddie turned the tables on Lawrenceville in their next contest, winning by a 2-1 count. Again the Laurentians tallied first when Dorflinger caged a long shot in the opening period, but Peddie came back with a rough and slashing attack to edge out the home forces.

The Princeton Third Squad, aided by a few varsity substitutes, trimmed the school skaters, 4-2, in the fifth game of the year. Art Karno and Glen Dorflinger bagged the team's goals in a game wherein the score might have been worse but for the determined play by Karno, Short, and Morrow, at defense, and Doyle in the cage.



COACH VAUGHAN

MANAGER J. ROSS

Peddie administered another trouncing to the Red and Black, 2-0, as the school six, in absorbing its fourth loss in a row, displayed a lack of scoring punch.

Next the Blue and White sextet of Hill came down from Pottstown to engage Lawrenceville. In a wild and wooly contest marked by brilliant play by the Hill goaltender in turning back many Laurentian thrusts, Hill tied the game up at 1-1 with ten seconds to play. Dorflinger had previously scored for the Red and Black. A five-minute overtime was played and in an unforgettable Frank Merriwell finish, Rufe Cutting sank the winning goal for Lawrenceville with but one second of the game to play.

Three days later Choate, with one of her greatest teams of all time, routed the Home forces, now at a low point after the Hill game, 7-1. Her veteran squad outskated and overwhelmed the embattled school skaters, taking over 50 shots at goalie Jeff Doyle, who did a rushing business in the nets.

The team then gained revenge for this loss and the two straight defeats at Peddie's hands by routing the Blue and Gold, 5-0, in a rough game which ended in a free-for-all between both teams and their supporters. The team played its finest hockey of the year in this game. Art Karno chalked up two fine goals, as did Captain Dorflinger, while Dunc Roberts got the other.

The Princeton Jayvees defeated the school team for the second straight time, 3-0, with little trouble, as the Red and Black was completely outclassed by the Tigers.

The team closed its season by routing a weak Morristown team, 7-1. Captain Dorflinger, playing his last game, netted two goals, while Ed Short, Bill Brown, Pete Sylvester, and Bud Morrow each tallied one.

The first line this season was made up of Captain Dorflinger at right wing, Dunc Roberts at center, and Rufe Cutting at left wing. Art Karno, Ed Short, and Bud Morrow were the three regular interchangeable defensemen, the latter two usually being the starting pair. The second line was made up of Pete Sylvester, Don Hyde, and Bill Brown.

VARSITY WRESTLING SEASON, 1942

Capt. C. Ross

UNFORTUNATELY, the wrestling team did not achieve the record that prospects seemed to predict that it would have. It was able to win only three of the six matches in which it participated. However, the season ended in grand style when six members of the team went to Philadelphia to wrestle in the invitation meet sponsored by the University of Pennsylvania. Here, although only half a regular team was participating, the Lawrentians won second place, being beaten by George School by only one point. This is the first year that the team has competed in the Invitation meet and it has set a record for future teams to follow.

The first meet of the year was with St. Andrews, and the Lawrentians gained their first victory by a score of 21-8. St. Andrews defaulted in the 175-pound class, but Atwood in turn was hurt and was forced to default in the 128-pound class. Captain Ross, Ramsay, Cole, McNeill, and Van Vleck won the points for Lawrenceville; Ramsay, Ross, and Van Vleck by pins. Neely lost to the St. Andrews captain in the 136-pound class.

Peddie was the second team to go down to defeat before the Lawrentians as the Red and Black piled up a 28-8 score. Captain Ross, although suffering from a shoulder injury, Stovall, Cole, McNeill, Ikeda, and Van Vleck won, with all those but Stovall gaining pins. Stovall gained a decision over Peddie's captain, but Stephens and Swan lost, Stephens by a pin.

The third match broke the spell, however, as Gilman sent the team down to defeat by a score of 19-11. The Red and Black defaulted in the 121-pound class, and Stovall was pinned; McNeill, Swan and Van Vleck were beaten by decisions. Atwood, Cole, and Captain Ross were the only winners. Ross, again in spite of his injured shoulder, defeated the hitherto undefeated Gilman captain, and Maryland State Champion.

Choate's inexperienced team was badly beaten as the Red and Black dropped only one match to win 29-3. Atwood, Cole, Gordon, and Van Vleck won pins, while Stovall, McNeill, and Captain Ross won by decisions. Stephens lost a decision to Choate's captain.

The Hill team, in the first match between the two schools in this sport, won by a score of 16-14. Captain Ross was out because of his severely injured shoulder, and his absence was felt. Acting Captain Stovall, Cole, Swan, and Van Vleck won points, Van Vleck by a pin; Lawson-Johnston, Atwood, Gordon, and McNeill, lost; McNeill losing by a pin to the Hill captain.

George defeated the team in its last meet of the season by a score of 18-11. Captain Ross, Atwood, Cole, and McNeill won points, Atwood by a tie, and the others by decisions. Lawson-Johnston, Ikeda, Stovall, and Gordon lost, Stovall by a decision to George's captain, and Ikeda and Gordon by pins.

At Philadelphia, Captain Ross, Cole, McNeill, and Van Vleck won first place honors, while Atwood and Stovall won second and third place, respectively. Everyone reached the final round except Stovall, who was defeated in the first round again by George's captain. Captain Ross and Cole finished undefeated seasons for the meets in which they wrestled.

Although several meets were called off, and injuries were very detrimental, the team managed to have a fairly good season. Ross, Atwood, Stovall, Cole, McNeill, and Van Vleck won Major "L's," and Lawson-Johnston, Ikeda, Gordon, and Swan won Minors. To the coaches, Messrs. Reed and Churchill, goes credit for the success that the team did have.

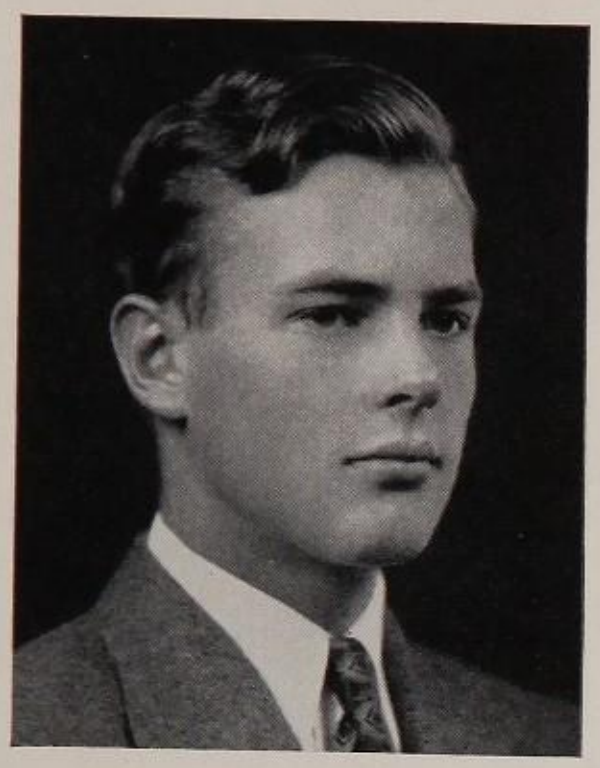
VARSITY BASEBALL, 1942



Capt. Benedict

WITHOUT a returning letterman, Coach Hulit was forced to choose his first team from rhinies and last year's house players. The team ended a mediocre season with five wins against seven losses. Chuck Burchenal and Chuck Sanders shared the mound duties while Captain Benedict was behind the plate. The team was erratic throughout the season.

In the first game, led by Dulcan and Benedict, the team out-hit the Princeton Freshmen 8-7, but committed five errors to give the game to the freshmen 7-1. It was a different story with Poly Prep, as the team led by Benedict collected 11 hits and seven runs behind Sanders' 3-hit pitching. It was one of the best played games of the year as the team won 7-0.

A sluggish Peddie touched the Red and Black pitchers for 10 hits and eleven runs while the Lawrentians helped them with four errors. Before a prom crowd, Burchenal, Sanders, and Walker combined to hurl a no-hit, no-run game. Benedict and Dulcan electrified the crowd by blasting home runs. The team fielded better and committed but one error.

Then came George School with their curve ball pitcher, Eberhard, and ten Lawrentians went down swinging. George won the game with a run in each of the two first innings before Sanders could find the plate. Jitterbug Chuck struck out twelve. Then Haverford outscored the Red and Black 9-6. Sanders, Burchenal, Walker and Davis hurled while Dulcan and Bruce MacFadden starred at the plate.

The Lawrentians snapped their losing streak at the cost of Rutgers Prep, 6-4. Davis gave the visitors 5 hits.

In the first game of series, Hill scored four runs in the sixth to tie the game. In the last of the ninth, a Blue-gray runner crossed the plate on a squeeze play bunt. Sanders starred at the plate with a double and home run. The Lawrentians played errorless ball and collected 5 runs on nine hits.

Germantown defeated Lawrenceville 7-4, behind Lefty Buehler. Benedict led the Red and Black with two singles and a home run.

Before the Alumni day crowd, the Red and Black nine got sweet revenge as the Hill bowed 5-2. Sanders started the game and pitched shut-out ball until he gave way to Burchenal in the fifth inning. After he had loaded the bases, Burchenal thrilled the stands with his stiff hurling by striking out the next two batters only to have a scratch single score Hill's two runs. After that bad break, Chuck was superb, giving up only two hits in the last four innings. A single by Schmidt scored one run in the seventh to break the dead-lock, and in the eighth the Red and Black batters bunted the Hill infield dizzy to score two more runs and take the game 5-2. The Lawrenceville infield played errorless ball and completed three double plays while Dulcan, Dorflinger, and Schmidt led the attack at the plate with two hits apiece.

The following Wednesday the Red and Black took on Penn Charter with "Little Black" Frank starting on the mound, Burchenal finishing the game. It was a thrilling game all the way. Lawrenceville won in the final inning 4-3, when "Harry" Biggs, with a perfect bunt, scored Schmidt from third on the best squeeze play of the season. Benedict led at the plate with two hits and drove in two runs.

In the last game of the season, Lawrenceville suffered her worst defeat of the season at the hands of a powerful Choate nine, 12-1. McCarty, on the mound for the Blue and Gold, handcuffed the Lawrenceville batters, while Jorgensen knocked the ball all over the field. Captain Benedict saved the Red and Black from a shut-out with his wild dash around the bases in the last inning for the Red and Black's only score.

After the game, the team chose "Cal" Benedict as captain for the season just completed, and elected Jimmy Fagan captain for next season. Throughout the season the team was sparked by "Al" Dulcan's fine play at shortstop and by his consistent performance at the plate.

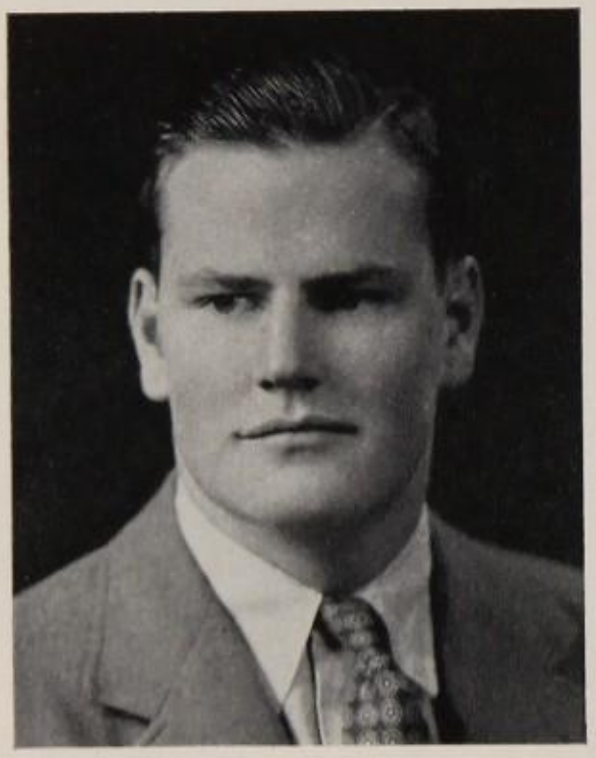
VARSITY TRACK, 1942



CAPT. MURPHY

ALTHOUGH ably captained by Gene Murphy, the 1942 Lawrenceville track team could not be said to have had an especially successful season, despite its winning the State Invitation Meet. Another of its victories was the Prep School Mile Relay, won at the Penn Relays by a team composed of Knowlton, Wyckoff, Hartshorne and Zahner. This race set a new School record of 3 min. 36.5 sec.

Heavily handicapped by illness and lack of material on the squad, coaches Goeller and Tiihonen deserve much praise for the creditable results they produced. The lack of winter track events was a great set-back for the team. The only representative of the School in the National Interscholastic A.A.U. meet at Madison Square Garden was Hartshorne, who tied for a second place by clearing 5 feet 9½ inches in the high jump.

Next we were opposed by the Princeton Freshmen who came out ahead by a score of 71 2/3 to 48 1/3 by winning eight first places, ten seconds and two thirds. Mike Decker, who also won the discus throw in this meet, set a new javelin record with a throw of 189 feet, 10 inches. Murphy took the shotput event, Zahner the quarter mile, and Hartshorne the high jump.

The third meet was with Montclair High School. We were defeated 85 to 35 by the strong opposition. We took only three first places to Montclair's nine. The visitors completely dominated the sprints, with Blake getting Lawrenceville's only points—thirds in both the 100 and 220 yard events. However, in the distance events, we did much better, for Knowlton and Barbara placed first and third respectively in the half mile. In the field events, Hartshorne won the high jump and Decker the javelin. Decker and Hartshorne added to their laurels by taking second in the discus and third in the broad jump respectively.

Following this came another defeat, at the hands of Trenton High, by a score of 73½ to 42½. We were awarded four first places, six seconds, and eleven thirds. Mike Decker broke his previous record by throwing the javelin 197 feet, 1 inch; and later placed third in the discus throw. Blake again ran the 220, placing first and also gained a second place in the 100. Hartshorne tied with two Trenton men for first in the high jump, and placed second in the broad jump. Sardina took first place in the pole vault.

On a slow, muddy track, Hill defeated Lawrenceville 77 to 39. Taking both the 100 yard and shot put events, Hill confined Lawrenceville's firsts to Hartshorne's victories in both the broad and high jumps and Decker's win in the javelin throw. In the 220, Blake and Berg placed second and third respectively. Zahner and Wyckoff took second and third places in the 440, with Fitzpatrick winning a second in the 220 yard low hurdles, and Hardy second in the mile. With Hartshorne taking first, Whitaker came in third in the high jump. Hartshorne set a new meet record of six feet, ¾ inch in this event. Decker stepped back to a third place in the discus throw, although he set a new meet record of 191 feet 10¾ inches in winning the javelin throw. Sardina took second place in the pole vault, while Sawyer and McFall tied with a Hill man for third.

In the Invitation State Championship, Lawrenceville took honors by amassing 45 points to Peddie's 38½, and St. Benedict's 36½. Bordentown Military Academy, Newark Academy and Pennington also competed. Decker set a new State record of 201 feet 7⅞ inches in the javelin throw, and went on to take third in the discus event. Hartshorne earned a first place in the high jump, and Sardina tied for second in the pole vault. Blake won second places in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes, with Berg taking thirds in both events.

Our victories were not numerous, but throughout the season our team gave a good account of itself. Excellent in some departments, its inexperience, rather than any lack of spirit, kept it from being outstanding.

VARSITY TENNIS SEASON, 1942

CAPT. YLVISAKER

FACING such talented opposition as the powerful Yale Freshmen, the Tennis Team experienced a rather mediocre season this year, although substantial improvement was noted in the last two matches which resulted in a 10-0 trouncing of Peddie School and a narrow 5-4 setback at the hands of a potent Hill School. Out of a total of five matches, the home forces were successful in two, the Peddie and Choate School contests, while three defeats were divided between Hill and the Yale Freshmen.

Captain Bill Ylvisaker, Ned Byrne, Prince DeBardeleben, and Bill Cavalier made up a well-knit nucleus from the previous year's team, and were enhanced by two promising Rhinies, Dick Gaines and Charley Highley, from Lower School, as the season opened against a star-studded Yale Freshmen. Only two triumphs in singles competition were recorded: those by Ted Winpenny and Highley. The latter, playing in his first match, upset Deland, of Yale, 7-5, 6-3. This triumph, effected by a Lower Schooler over a college star, was a noteworthy achievement indeed. Winpenny's victory was interesting in that it was effected against a former Lawrentian, Phil Miles.

Featured by the individual and combined successes of Dick Gaines and Winpenny, the team sprang into top form with a 6-3 conquest of the Choate School. Both were victorious in singles matches, and, when paired together in doubles, returned a 6-3, 6-4 decision.

Two victories out of three in the doubles column clinched the final count at 6-3 in our favor.

The next contest, however, with a favored Hill School resulted in a stinging defeat. In but one singles and a solitary doubles event was a Lawrenceville entry returned the winner, as a capable Hill opponent walked off with a 7-2 conquest. Five triumphs in singles competition settled the outcome, as Ted Winpenny alone was successful. Close matches were the order of the day, however. Captain Young, of Hill, encountered excellent opposition from young Highley before he silenced his opponent, 8-6, 6-4. Dick Gaines forced his rival to the limit before bowing, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4.

In doubles competition the story was much the same, with Prince DeBardeleben and Highley comprising Lawrenceville's sole effective combination in emerging victorious, 6-2, 6-1. However, Hill made off with the remaining matches for a final 7-2 decision.

The meeting with Peddie School furnished a complete reversal of form. Eventual victory was never threatened as the home forces emerged with a 10-0 victory. Captain Ylvisaker, DeBardeleben, Highley, Gaines, and Winpenny were at their best and not one experienced great difficulty in triumphing.

In the annual interscholastics matches, Ylvisaker, DeBardeleben, and Highley represented the School. The Captain experienced some success and was not eliminated until the quarter final round by Bensinger, the eventual winner. Highly lost his first match to this same opponent, and DeBardeleben dropped a close decision, 6-4, 5-7, 6-2, also in the first round.

The final contest took place as a return match with the Hill School. Although much stiffer competition was afforded the result was the same, Hill winning, 5-4.

It is to be hoped that, under the strong guidance of Coach Harris, a profitable season may be experienced next year with the aid of several returning veterans.

VARSITY GOLF SEASON, 1942

CAPT. COOK

OUTSTANDING play by Captain Cook, abetted by superior coaching on the part of Mr. Heyniger and Mr. Stout, helped produce a better than average result this season. Six matches, those with the Penn Freshmen, and the Newman, Taft, Hill, and Peddie Schools, resulted in victories.

Opening the season on a cold, wintry day against the Penn Freshmen, Lawrenceville emerged victorious, 5-4. Captain Cook, in the first foursome, opened with a 1-up conquest of Kachiss. Winter, teaming with Cook, lost to Kittles, 2-1. A tie for the match was recorded in best ball competition.

The same numerical result occurred in the next match. Lawrenceville's DeBardeleben lost, but McWane triumphed and best ball was tied. However, it was the low score compiled by Takamine and Prather in the next foursome which decided the match, as Prather's individual loss was nullified by his partner's win.

A second victory was then recorded against Newman, 6½-2½. Captain Cook and Winters again comprised the home end of the opening foursome, and succeeded in winning both individual honors and best ball competition.

A resounding defeat was next administered the Taft School, at Greenwich, Connecticut, in a contest which saw the Red and Black performers walk off with an unbroken string of victories in both individual and best ball competition.

Next came disaster in the form of a close 5½-3½ defeat at the hands of a highly rated Princeton Freshman group. Close competition marked the opening event in which Cook lost out on the 19th hole, DeBardeleben defeated Montgomery, formerly of Lawrenceville, and Princeton won best ball honors.

A second defeat was then administered to the team by the Hill School, 6-3. Our score was compiled in its entirety by the duo comprised of Captain Cook and Charlie DeBardeleben, who emerged successful in both match play and best ball competition. Cook defeated Hopkins, of Hill, 2-1, while DeBardeleben returned a 2-up decision over Houdray. However, Hill passed the home forces in winning all remaining matches.

A sudden snapback to winning ways was next recorded in a surprising upset victory over the Princeton Freshmen in a return match, 5½-3½. First competition saw Lawrenceville accumulate 2 points to Princeton's one as Cook overwhelmed Campbell, 5-3, DeBardeleben lost by a narrow margin, 1 down, to Brooks, and the same two acquired best ball honors.

A second match with Hill saw the team return the compliment of a previous defeat, winning 5½-3½. Paced by the excellent combination of Cook and DeBardeleben, which swept all events in opening competition, the team performed markedly better in this match which took place under adverse weather conditions. Cook and DeBardeleben triumphed respectively over Hopkins and Houdray, 5-4 and 2-up, in match play as well as best ball to give the eventual winners a 3-0 lead at this point. Winters then added to the total by halving his match, but Todd lost to Harper, of Hill, 5-3.

The upset defeat of Captain Cook alone marred the team's overwhelming trouncing of Peddie School in the final match of the season. Aside from the fact that Cook and DeBardeleben lost best ball, victories were returned in all other departments in this grand finale by Winters, DeBardeleben, Prather, McWane, and Stovall for a total of seven points to two.

FENCING SEASON, 1942

THE enthusiasm of the fifteen odd boys who stayed out for fencing despite Mr. Martin's dire forebodings of hard work was unable to check the invading hosts of Haverford. We lost our only match, 8-1, so the season could not be called a highly successful one if we are to judge by this alone.

However, fencing attracted more candidates than ever before this year, almost all of whom showed their real fondness for the sport by working overtime, often being the last to leave the gym after practice that lasted until six o'clock. December witnessed the truth of Mr. Martin's warnings with two weeks of grinding effort at learning the fundamentals. That was not fun. During January, the fun began. A style of ladder scheme was instituted, with each man keeping his position or getting ahead by virtue of challenge matches. Under Mr. Martin's witty and able coaching, great progress was made; and the beginners began to enjoy their first matches. Boocock was by far the most able of all the novices, and Maneck and King, two Rhinies, did exceptionally well.

Of the match with Haverford, the less said the better. Maneck was unable to fence because of illness, so Lawrenceville was represented by Tilden, King, and Boocock. In a series of round-robin matches with the Haverford team of Ojos, McCarrough, Flynn, and Brandon we achieved our sole victory.

CIRCLE HOUSE FOOTBALL, 1942

HIGHLIGHTED by a 12-0 victory over the second-place Dickinson eleven, Raymond House finished the season undefeated to win the Circle House football championship. This superbly-coached and well-balanced team, although rated by many inferior to Dickinson in all-around ability, really showed its superiority in the all-important contest. In second place, Dickinson exhibited true power and aggressiveness, and in third place, an under-rated Woodhull team came through boasting two wins and a tie. Close behind came Cleve, who showed potential power, but never really got moving. Kennedy filled the fifth slot, a lack of backfield material making a winning combination impossible. In the cellar was Griswold, who could not boast one victory. The team was seriously handicapped by a lack of manpower, many times not having a full team on the field.

In the first round, Raymond had more trouble than they expected in downing Cleve, winning 7-0 after recovering a fumble on the 2-yard stripe. Dickinson and Kennedy won, as expected, over Woodhull and Griswold respectively. The Red and White did, however, roll up 26 points, showing real offensive power. Griswold held the score to 6-0, in their finest exhibition of the year. Already, observers could see that it would be between Raymond and Dickinson, and all waited for this decisive contest.

Victories by Raymond, Dickinson and Woodhull marked the second round with Kennedy, Cleve and Griswold the victims in that order. Raymond again was surprised by their opponents' power, a run by Mahler erasing Kennedy's 9-6 lead late in the fourth quarter and made it a 13-9 final. Dickinson had less trouble than expected in trouncing Cleve 19-0. The game was even, played around midfield all afternoon, but long runs made the difference. Woodhull easily romped over Griswold 20-0, showing that they were really the better team in all departments, and were raised in the eyes of the other teams after this victory. Dickinson's rout of Cleve made them the favorite over Raymond.

The third round heralded Raymond's 13-0 defeat of Griswold, Dickinson's 13-0 victory over Kennedy, and a 13-13 tie between Cleve and Woodhull. Raymond spent most of the afternoon in Griswold territory, but the spirited defense of the Blue and Red made only two touchdowns possible. Dickinson easily downed Kennedy, with both tallies coming in the final quarter. This triumph was, however, expensive in that Bob Hamill, plunging back, was injured and unable to play any more. The Cleve-Woodhull game was a closely fought battle all the way, Cleve going into the last quarter with a 13-7 lead. A pass in the closing moments resulted in a 13-13 tie.

In the fourth and all-important round came the game everybody had been waiting for: the Maroon and Gray of Raymond vs. the Red and White of Dickinson. The latter was favored in most circles, despite the loss of Hamill. At the end of the first half, however, they were proved wrong, as Raymond led 6-0 and Dickinson hadn't gained anything through the air or on the ground. Raymond's score had come by a pass from Berg to Lamson. Here a team known for its running turned to the air to down their rivals and practically clinch the championship. Cleve showed in its 19-0 victory over Griswold the offensive drive that they had been lacking all year, but with one game to go, this didn't do them much good. Woodhull gained assurance of at least a tie for third by downing last year's champions, Kennedy, 13-6.

In the final round, Raymond decisively won the championship by defeating Woodhull 13-6. The highlight of the game was the losers' spread formation which almost proved fatal to the potential victors. Dickinson finished its most successful season in a decade by trouncing Griswold. The Kennedy-Cleve game turned out to be a hard-fought battle. Kennedy opened the scoring early in the fourth quarter and failed to convert. Then in the last few minutes of the game, Burchenal raced around end for forty yards to tie the score, making the final score a 6-6 tie.

On the whole, the season was a good one, having its share of upsets, disappointments and achievements. Much credit is due Mr. Gartner and his team who, through hard work, improved all season, reaching their peak against Dickinson. They deserved what they got—the Championship!

CIRCLE HOUSE SOCCER SEASON

THE Circle House soccer season ended in an unbroken tie for first place between Woodhull and Dickinson. Griswold followed in third place while Raymond, Kennedy and Cleve were respectively fourth, fifth, and sixth.

The teams were unusually well matched, as shown by the fact that the greatest difference in score was only three points. Thus almost every game was decided only by the final whistle. The main reasons for Woodhull's excellent record of four wins were its experienced forward line and the fine goal-keeping of Smith. Dickinson's power was also in the line, especially the wings, while Griswold's strength was in its defense around the goal. Of the six teams in the league, Griswold's showed the most improvement during the season.

After only two weeks of practice, the season opened on December 8th. Raymond, Woodhull and Griswold overcame their opponents, Kennedy, Cleve, and Dickinson, respectively. The Raymond-Kennedy game was exceptionally close, Raymond's only score coming early in the first quarter. In somewhat of an upset, Griswold overcame Dickinson by a lone tally late in the third period. At the same time Woodhull squeezed out a 3-2 victory over Cleve.

The following Friday the second round was played. The results of this round left only Woodhull with a clean record of no losses. Dickinson made up for its loss in the first round by defeating Raymond 1-0. A favored Cleve eleven was nosed out by Kennedy in an overtime period, 3-2. Woodhull with the aid of its strong forward line defeated Griswold, 2-1.

The third round was played under bad weather conditions and ended with the Brown and White of Woodhull still unconquered. For the third time in a row they nosed out their opponent, this time Raymond, by a margin of one point. In the other two games, Griswold, starting to climb up, beat Cleve 3-2 in one; while Dickinson won its second game of the season by defeating Kennedy, 3-0.

Arriving back from the Christmas holidays, Woodhull's eleven was faced with their big game of the season against Dickinson. This time the luck of the Brown and White failed and a victorious Dickinson team walked off the field tied for first place. However, Dickinson and Woodhull weren't alone in the tie, for as their game was going on, Griswold defeated a stubborn Kennedy aggregation 3-2, giving them also a hold on the lead. In the other game of the day, Cleve suffered a defeat at the hands of Raymond, 3-0.

With a three-way tie existing, the all important final round was played on January 17th. Woodhull barely nosed out a fighting Kennedy eleven, 1-0. The Raymond attack was too much for Griswold and she succumbed 2-1, thus losing her chance to end the season in first place. Dickinson was more successful, though, and she succeeded in overcoming Cleve 1-0. Thus the season ended with a tie for first place between Woodhull and Dickinson.

In the play-off game neither Woodhull nor Dickinson was able to score; and after two scoreless overtimes had been played, the championship was declared a tie.

CIRCLE HOUSE BASKETBALL, 1943

THE 1943 House Basketball Championship was won by the Cleve House led by Captain Dave Mackintosh. At the beginning of the season Dickinson, Woodhull, and Cleve were the favorites, but as the season progressed Dickinson was eliminated from these. It then became apparent that the winner of the Cleve-Woodhull game would win the title. Although nine points behind going into the third quarter of this game, Cleve rallied and gained a three point lead before the closing gun sounded. Thus Woodhull with only one loss gained second place, with Griswold, Dickinson, Kennedy, and Raymond taking third, fourth, fifth, and sixth places, respectively.

The season opened with the Kennedy five suffering defeat at the hands of Woodhull. Although the Blue and Grey held their own in the second half, a poor start resulted in a final score of 33-21. The most interesting game of the first round was the Cleve-Dickinson. Having practically the same team as last year when they finished second, Dickinson was expected to be very strong, but Cleve won the game by a score of 18-11. With the loss of its two mainstays, including its captain, Raymond bowed to Griswold 43-3 in the greatest rout of the season.

In the second round Kennedy again suffered defeat, this time to Dickinson, 32-22. Again Kennedy failed to get started until the second half, and again they were unable to overcome the Red and White's lead. Raymond, much improved, was able to hold a highly favored Woodhull team to 21 points while scoring 9 themselves. In a stubbornly fought game, Griswold was nosed out by Cleve in the closing minutes of the game. A timely foul shot and a field goal gained this victory for Cleve.

Raymond suffered its third straight defeat in the next round, bowing to Dickinson 32-19. The game was one-sided most of the way through, however, several rallies led by Acting Captain Rionda made it fairly exciting. Cleve continued its winning streak by trouncing Kennedy 22-19. The Blue and Grey were unable to cope with the powerful Cleve attack. Woodhull also continued its winning streak by downing Griswold in a closely contested game.

The all-important Cleve-Woodhull game occurred in the fourth round. Undoubtedly the Woodhull aggregation was a little over-confident as they stepped on the floor, and probably even more so when they led 14-7 at the end of the third quarter. Then, however, Cleve, led by the brilliant play of Captain Mackintosh, began to roll. Soon they had cut Woodhull's lead to one point, and then a short time later took the lead. Woodhull rallied desperately but Cleve held firm and the game ended with Twohy of Cleve sinking a foul shot to make Cleve the victor by 17-14.

Kennedy in the fourth round won its only victory of the season by overcoming Raymond 14-13. Raymond held the lead during the first half, but lost, and never regained it, at the beginning of the second half. Griswold vanquished Dickinson in this round by a score of 26-20. Griswold's aggressive ball enabled them to win this game.

The last round proved to be the least interesting of all the rounds played because the championship had already been decided. Kennedy lost to the better Griswold team, 29-17. Cleve had little trouble in overcoming the much weaker Raymond team, also by the score of 29-17. Woodhull easily crushed a dispirited Dickinson team 37-13. Bowen was Dickinson's only strong point, scoring ten of his team's thirteen points.

So ended the season. Of all the teams, Raymond showed the most improvement during the year.

CIRCLE HOUSE BASEBALL, 1942

IN one of the best seasons seen in a long time, the Kennedy baseball team came through with but one loss to capture their fourth consecutive championship. A good brand of ball was played on Green field and excitement was plentiful. Neither Kennedy nor Dawes will soon forget the playoff game on the Varsity diamond.

The first round opened with Dawes, Kennedy, and Dickinson winning over Griswold, Raymond, and Cleve respectively. Dawes, with Russ Candee on the mound, took their game by a 9-5 score. Kennedy behind Pete Biggs won 10-4, and Dickinson won 17-1; Bud McDougal getting credit for the win.

The second round again found Dawes, Kennedy, and Dickinson continuing their winning ways. Dawes behind Candee scored 12 times to beat Cleve who could only get 5 runs. Sam Craig looked good at times, but failed to receive the necessary support. Pete Biggs earned his second win for Kennedy as the Blue and Grey pounded out an 18-6 win over a weak Woodhull team. For Kennedy, Johnson looked good at bat while Porter and Fuller really pounded the ball for Woodhull. Dickinson had little trouble overcoming Griswold, Bud McDougal starring on the mound and at bat, and took the win. McNeill hit two homers and McDougal one. Hyde excelled for Griswold.

The third round found Kennedy idle, but Dawes and Dickinson fought it out for the lead of the league. Dawes won 7-3, in one of the best played ball games Circle has offered. Too much can't be said about Bud Morrow who came in from his shortstop position in Candee's absence and set Dickinson down with only 3 hits. Woodhull took Raymond over 10-5; Del Fuller being the winning pitcher. Cleve captured its first win of the season as they pounded out the Griswold offerings for 16 runs against Griswold's 3.

In the fourth round, Kennedy handed Dickinson its second defeat, 6-5. Billy Heath pitched well all the way for the Blue and Grey, Biggs having been recalled to the Varsity. McDougal was on the mound for Dickinson. Woodhull pounded out a 25-12 win over Griswold. Porter, Fuller, and Galbraith hit the ball hard for Woodhull, while Don Hyde played well for Griswold. Cleve took its second win at Raymond's expense, 6-1. Sam Craig pitched well for Cleve and took his second victory.

The fifth round produced a couple of close ball games. Kennedy barely nosed out Cleve 7-6, the winning run coming in the last inning. Dawes continued without a loss by taking Woodhull 9-7. This game was tighter than the score indicates. Dickinson came back into the winning column by beating Raymond 11-1. Bud McDougal pitched and hit his way to victory.

The sixth round found Dawes the only undefeated team as they came through to beat the Raymond outfit 8-1. Candee went all the way for Dawes with Berg, Huck, and LeFevre doing chores on the mound for Raymond. Griswold burst Kennedy's bubble as Mr. Peck's boys, fighting hard all the way, squeezed out a 9-8 win for their first victory of the season. Hyde pitched all the way for Griswold with Heath and Ross working for the Blue and Grey. Woodhull overcame Dickinson 4-3; Porter and Fuller furnishing the power at the plate.

In the seventh and last round of the season, Kennedy defeated Dawes 5-2, to tie for the championship. Superb pitching by Bill Heath and good hitting by Johnson were the deciding factors. Cleve took the measure of Woodhull 15-14 in a tight game. Raymond gaining its first win stopped Griswold 8-7.

The regular season ended with Dawes and Kennedy each with one defeat. The playoff was held on the Varsity diamond, and it proved to be a whale of a ball game. A scratch hit in the last of the ninth by Geyelin was the decisive blow. Dawes came out on the short end of an 8-7 score. Thus Kennedy annexed its fourth championship in a hard fought and well deserved victory. Woodhull and Dickinson tied for third, Cleve finished fourth, and Raymond and Griswold finished in a dead heat for fifth place.

CIRCLE HOUSE TRACK, 1942

KENNEDY won the 1942 Circle House Track Championship by nosing out Dickinson in the 880-yard relay. The Blue and Grey scored 36 points to the runner-up's 32. Cleve took third place with 28. Fourth place was captured by Griswold with 22 points as Dawes, Raymond, and Woodhull followed with 17, 15, and 12 points respectively.

On the first day of the meet, Kennedy was nip-and-tuck with Dickinson and led 31-30 with the 880 relay to be run the second day. Dickinson scored four firsts to the Eagles two, but Kennedy had collected six seconds to only two for the Red and White.

For the second straight year, Jim Blake of Dickinson dominated the sprints as he squeezed out a victory over Hunt in the Hundred by inches. Sawyer of Cleve and Baliozian of Dawes followed to the tape in that order. The winning time was 10.7 seconds. Blake again beat Johnny Hunt to the tape to take the 200-yard dash in the fine time of 23.7 seconds. Captain Sawyer of Cleve was third as Soriano took fourth for the Woodhull. In the junior hundred, Newberry covered the distance in 11.8 seconds to win for Raymond over Cleve's Mendoza. Woodhull's Soriano took third as Clark added a fourth to the Dickinson total.

In the high hurdles, Cornish covered the barrier course in 18.5 to win for Cleve over Sardina of Dawes. Murphy and Phelps of Woodhull and Kennedy took third and fourth respectively. In the low hurdles, Billy Phelps gave Kennedy one of her two firsts as he led Cornish of Cleve across the tape in 27.2 seconds. The 440 was a very thrilling race as Bobo Bowen of the Red and White stood off Johnny Ross's straight drive in his bid for a Kennedy first place. Ross of Dawes and Kerr of Griswold finished in third and fourth respectively. In the half mile, Stanley Knowlton of Griswold easily bested Van Syckle for first. Pittis of Woodhull came in third while McConnell of Cleve took fourth. Cleve's Bob Hardy turned in the meet's only upset as he beat Slaymaker of Griswold going away in the mile run. After trailing in fourth place for three and one-half laps, he sprinted into the home stretch to win by twenty feet. Lathrop of Dickinson and Shearman of Woodhull followed in that order.

In the field events, Ted Stanley gave Kennedy another first as he took the high jump with a height of 5 ft. 4 in. to nose out Charles of Dawes. Hardy took third for Cleve as Al Craig salvaged fourth place for Woodhull. Sardina vaulted 9 ft. 6 in. to dethrone Johnny Sawyer of Cleve who was last year's champion. Doug Shakespeare saved a third place for Kennedy. Haines of Woodhull was fourth. Art Karno leaped 18 ft. 14 in. to take first place for Raymond in the broad jump. Hunt, Franzheim, and Hamill of Kennedy, Griswold, and Dickinson followed in that order.

The weights competition saw Hawke of Dickinson, Hopkins of Raymond, and Shaw of Griswold, take firsts in the shot, discus, and javelin, respectively. The following day saw Kennedy annex the meet when her relay team of Ross, Van Syckle, Phelps, and Hunt triumphed over Griswold in 3:41.1.

CIRCLE HOUSE TENNIS, 1942

EMERGING victorious in the final doubles match against Cleve, Hamlin Neely and Joe Takamine provided the margin necessary to furnish Dawes with the Tennis Championship this year for the second consecutive season. Previous to this match the score had been knotted, as both had individually won and lost a singles contest.

The first meeting of the season ended with Cleve, Griswold, and Dickinson placing themselves in the running by outlasting Woodhull, Kennedy, and Raymond, respectively. Burchenal and DeBardeleben each emerged victorious for Cleve in the singles competition over their opponents, and these two teamed together to win the doubles match from the Woodhull representatives. At the same time, Don Hyde and Don Richart triumphed in a similar manner for Griswold to maintain their team's position in the race, while Clark and Stewart performed similarly for Dickinson. Dawes drew a bye, and thus her status remained the same.

This team then eliminated Griswold, with Takamine taking the measure of Richart rather easily, and Brophy downing Hyde, of the Red and Blue. The two winners then took the doubles competition. Dickinson suffered similar elimination at the hands of Cleve, 2-1, as Chuck Burchenal and Hardy of the Green captured the singles matches.

There followed the final match which saw Dawes eliminate Cleve, 2-1.

CIRCLE HOUSE GOLF, 1942

ON the strength of a well-balanced trio comprised of Rufus Cutting, Bud Morrow, and Ted Gordon, Dawes this year triumphed over threatening Cleve in the final round of House Golf to acquire the trophy, won the preceding season by Kennedy.

The pairings in the first round found Dawes, Kennedy, and Woodhull respectively grouped against Raymond, Dickinson, and Griswold, with Cleve drawing a bye. High scores and early decisions predominated in the first matches. Cutting overwhelmed Chaplin, of Raymond, 6 and 5, and Ted Gordon of the champs trimmed Eacho 3 and 1 to clinch the contest. Captain Huck of Raymond, downed Morrow, 8 and 7, to obtain his team's sole favorable decision. At the same time, Kennedy and Woodhull remained in the running as the former's trio of Lee, Biggs, and Sibbernsen overcame Dickinson, and the latter's Holcroft, Sherman, and Galbraith took the measure of their Griswold opponents.

The second competition saw Dawes trounce Woodhull easily and Kennedy drop a close decision to Cleve, 2-1.

Thus arrived a playoff between the two undefeated competitors to decide the championship. Cutting suffered his initial setback of league competition to Curtis, of Cleve, 4 and 3. However, the final verdict was quickly decided when Morrow beat Craig, of the Green, 8 and 6, and Gordon took the measure of DeBardeleben, 6 and 5. Meanwhile, Kennedy overcame Woodhull for third place.

THE OLLA PODRIDA

THE OLLA PODRIDA this year is a war edition. All through its pages are indications of the war: the map on the back cover, the cartoon at the beginning of the book, and the Fifth Form Divider are a few examples of this.

The book this year has essentially the same make-up as last year. There is only one real change and that is in the dividers. This year they are half tones instead of line cuts. When Dawson Smith presented these dividers to the board for consideration, the board agreed that, although they were entirely different than any ever done before, they were too good to pass up. We think that they are the best that have ever appeared in the book.

Your attention is also called to the map in the back of the book drawn by Pete Forcey. We hope it does justice to War Lawrenceville.

When the cover was under consideration, the board decided that it would use the simplest design that it could find. Even though it resembles a cover of not many years ago, we hope that it meets with your approval.

In past years, the OLLA POD has generally been dedicated to one of the masters in the school, but there was some feeling this year that in keeping with the theme of the book, it should be dedicated to those Alumni who have lost their lives in this war. When this suggestion was put before the Fifth Form it was overwhelmingly endorsed.

Editor Johnson

Mr. Turner had to do all the photography work with practically no assistants; he should be commended for the fine job he has done. To Chuck Ross, Dinsdale Davis, and the Photography Club goes the credit for the informal and action shots. These are hard to get but most of theirs are excellent.

Donald Dew has done a fine job as Business Manager. In spite of the war we have a larger number of advertisements this year than last.

This year, as last, candidates have been hard to get. This has meant an added burden for each member of the board to carry. We hope that next year's board has more success in getting candidates than we have had.

Mr. Samuels and Mr. Conkwright of the Princeton University Press have been of immeasurable aid in helping the board make up the book. We wish to offer them our sincere thanks.

To Mr. Kimball, who has read the copy for the articles in this annual, the board also wishes to extend thanks. Without his help the Olla Pod would still be a September dream.

And so we hope that this, the fifty-ninth edition of the Olla Podrida, will live up to its name—"A mixture of everything good."

THE LAWRENCE

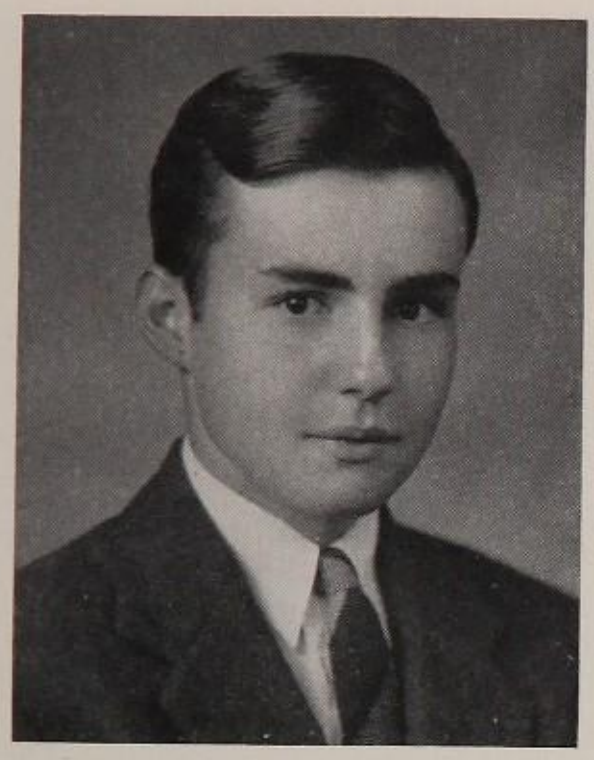
THE LAWRENCE this year has had a successful year, in spite of many difficulties that it had never faced before. It was necessary to change printers right in the middle of the year, and, of course, some difficulties resulted from this change. The financial problem was greater than it has ever been before, making it necessary to print only four page issues.

Bill Patten, as Editor-in-Chief, did a fine job of making the paper run smoothly without the aid of any faculty advisors. It was hoped that by this method more interest and care would be shown among the editors. As a whole, the editors responded well to this call to bear the whole burden of the paper, and this new plan has certainly had many good points. It is interesting to note that this is the first time such a system has worked.

Much credit should also go to Boudinot Atterbury, the Managing Editor, for the many hours he put in making up the paper and seeing that it came out on time every week.

The Business Board, working under war-time handicaps, was ably headed by Prince DeBardeleben. He and his board have kept the paper in the black, while keeping advertising and subscription rates at their usual level. Huyler Held and Albert Griffiths were indispensable members of this board.

43 Olla Podrida 43



Editor Patten

The Editorial page has shown more improvement than any other. Terry Neale, as Chairman of this board, did one of the best pieces of work ever seen on The Lawrence. His editorials were always good, and his campaign to give Lower Schoolers more privileges caused much discussion. Bill Umstattd analyzed and reviewed The Forum Speeches well. His writing ability certainly helped this page to a great extent. Humor was provided by Jeff Doyle's L'43 Exclusive, and we still wonder where he got all his dirt.

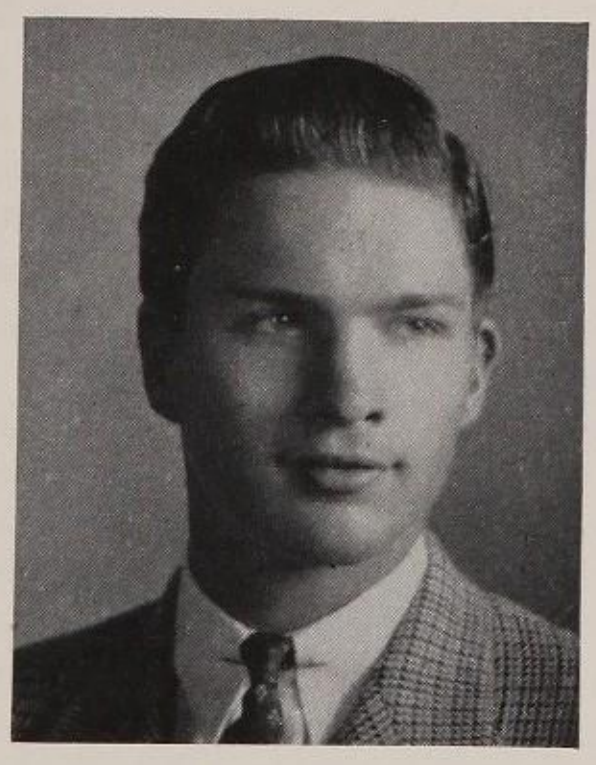
The job of proofing the paper went to John Sawyers. His job, the most thankless of all, was done promptly and efficiently each week.

Dave Mackintosh and Harry Schoenberg were the Sports and News Editors respectively, and both did a commendable piece of work.

One of the main steps forward as far as The Lawrence itself is concerned was the adopting of a constitution written by the Editor. This new set of rules went into effect in March, and it has clarified and simplified the duties of each member of the board.

The "extra" put out after the Hill-Lawrenceville game was a masterpiece of speed and cooperation. This was just another success for this year's board. We will all remember the story on the black-out with a picture of "the Kennedy lights that ruined the test."

When the accomplishments of this year's Lawrence is weighed against its many problems, the year's success becomes even more apparent. This extremely capable board, having fuller scholastic programmes than ever before, certainly did an amazing job.



Business Manager De Bardeleben

THE LIT

IN the past year the Lit has been distinguished by a small, but extremely able board, headed by Pete Forcey as editor-in-chief, with Fred Buechner, Jim Merrill and Bill Umstattd as the Literary Editors. Al Cornish performed the duties of Business Manager most capably and Wells was Art Editor. Mr. Gerrish Thurber, who for past years has been the Lit's faculty advisor, was forced to leave school because of illness shortly after Christmas vacation. Needless to say, his loss was a severe handicap to the Board; his unflagging efforts and generous personal assistance had made him a most needed and welcome influence. His place has been filled by Mr. Wendell Friderici, who very kindly consented to take on the extra burdens and who has been of invaluable help as the new advisor.

The Fall issue continued last year's precedents of a simple, colorful cover and a double-column page. It featured an article about Lawrenceville formulated by the Board and written by Buechner, which was reprinted as the lead editorial in the Lawrentian. Also of note was the previous year's Fourth Form Prize Essay, a study of the poetess Elinor Wylie, by Merrill, and a political essay by Doyle. Stories by Forcey, Buechner, Merrill and Elberfeld, and poems by Merrill, Buechner and Doyle completed the issue.

The second issue, which appeared before Christmas, was an outstanding one. It included many poems, of which three were by Buechner, two by Merrill, and others by Forcey, Wright, and Smith. There were stories ranging from an absurd tale in Bronx dialect from the pen of Doig, to detailed character studies by Umstattd, Forcey and Wechsler. Another essay by Doyle, Eyre's verbose and gruesome thriller of foggy London nights, and an eighteenth-century extravaganza by Merrill completed the issue. This was perhaps the best Lit for over a year, and it received well-deserved attention from students and faculty.

Editor Forcey

The Spring issue brought forth considerable new talent: a fine essay on the Japanese by Harwood, stories by Lee and Young, two poems by Kahner, and a priceless parody of old English ballads by that master of dry humor, A. P. Loening. The regulars were also represented, and stories by the Big Four, Buechner, Merrill, Forcey, and Umstattd reinforced the pages of the magazine. The political note was struck in Umstattd's story which proved that graft always wins, and Forcey wrote an inspired tale of socialism in the big city. These were balanced by a fable, The Devil's Key, by Buechner, Merrill's essay, Plato and the Poets and poems by Merrill and Buechner.

The fourth issue was published at the time of the Spring Prom, and contained stories and poems from the familiar contributors as well as drops of new blood. At this time Tony Harwood, Jeff Doyle, and Bill Young were elected Associate Editors to the Literary Board, while Morse was appointed to the Art Board.

This winter the Lit had the singular honor of winning First Prize in the nationwide Columbia contest for preparatory school literary magazines. This is indeed proof of the literary quality that the Lit has maintained throughout the year, and of the efficiency of the Business and Managing Board. To Messrs. Thurber and Friderici much credit is due for their helpful interest and suggestions which have been greatly appreciated by the Board and which have contributed to the production of one of the finest Lits in Lawrenceville history.

THE PROGRAM

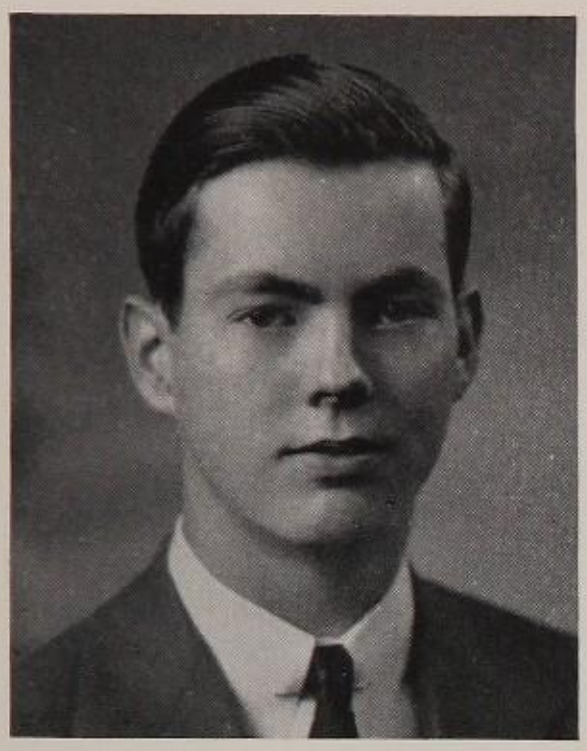
AS HAS been the custom in past years, The Program Committee set about its activities in the Spring of 1942. In elections held prior to that time, Sam Craig was elected Chairman, Arthur Karno as Business Manager, and Harley Heath, Jr., was reelected Art Editor. Craig and Karno, together with Mr. Wyman, who has now completed his sixth year as faculty advisor to the publication, deserve a great deal of credit for keeping the quality of the material high and the budget balanced. In spite of the war and the decreasing number of advertisers, The Program has managed to serve the school with its usual efficiency and timeliness.

The newly elected board began its duties with the publication of an eight page program for the Periwig's musical All In Good Time, given during the Spring Prom Week-end. The board conceived the idea of making the cover similar to that of Time Magazine. As a result, an otherwise small publication received widespread acclaim.

The first major output under Sam Craig's leadership was the sixteen page Alumni Day Program of the Lawrenceville-Hill baseball game. Bill Heath produced a very striking cover for this issue. The publication contained, in addition to information about Alumni Day and the baseball game, photographs of the spring athletics and statements from the various coaches.

The annual Rhinie Bible, the major task of the Program Committee, retained essentially the same features as the handbook of the year before. Again the Rules and Regulations were divided into a separate section from the General Information. The convenient spiral binding was kept and the cover took on a modernistic aspect.

43 Olla Podrida 43



Editor S. Craig

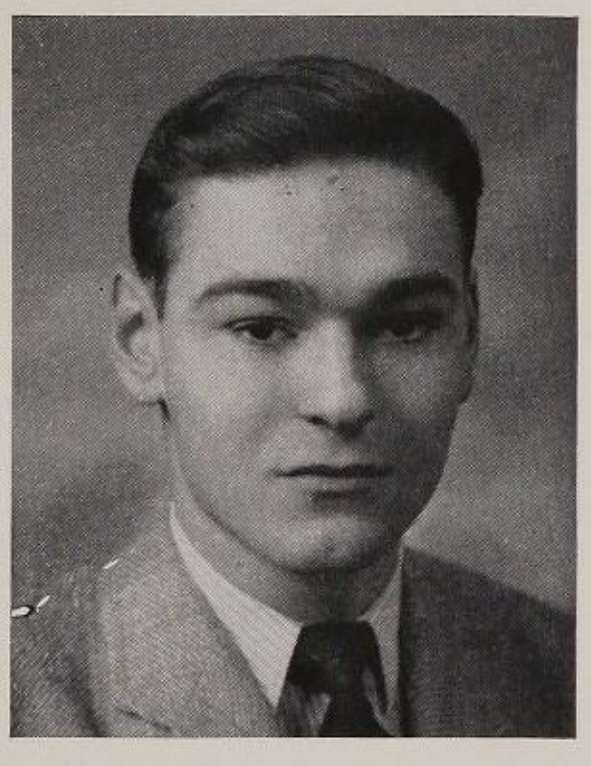
The committee added a new feature this fall by mimeographing sheets of Dr. Harris' songs written for the Spring shows of past years. These were used at Sunday coffee in Foundation House and seemed to make the hour more enjoyable for everyone.

Two publications were presented by the Program for Fathers' Week-end last fall. One was a four page format for the Periwig's production of Edgar Wallace's Criminal at Large. The other was a twelve page program for the annual Choate-Lawrenceville football game.

The program for the Periwig production of Julius Caesar was the final issue made by this year's board. The program was printed on one long sheet of paper, similar to the programs of Shakespeare's day.

In March this year the new board was elected. Neil Smythe became Chairman, Phil Dresdner is Business Manager, and Bill Heath began his third year as Art Editor, with Bret Morse to help him.



Business Manager Karno

THE PRESS CLUB

THIS year a great many of the Press Club's activities were cut short because of world conditions. Due to the war, almost all the papers which formerly accepted news of Lawrenceville events, cut down their sport sections to a point where there was often no room for news of the school's activities. Despite these difficulties, the Club has had a successful year under the leadership of Glen Dorflinger. In so far as it was possible, it has sent pictures, stories, and general data to the leading newspapers of the East. These included the New York Times and Herald Tribune, and the Philadelphia Bulletin, Record, and Inquirer.

Since the function of the club is to write accounts of Lawrenceville sports, it is necessary that the members have a thorough knowledge of sports which they can turn into copy both speedily and efficiently. Members of the board are in charge of the various games and candidates write articles about the contest which are judged by the board member in charge. When candidates become proficient they are elected to the board, thus providing underform members to replace retiring Fifth Form members.

This year Mr. Alden Groff replaced Mr. Jameson, who is now in the Army, as faculty advisor. The members of the club are grateful to him for his interest and friendly guidance which has made the organization, in spite of its handicaps, a more efficient and successful unit than it has ever been before. This year's heads were Glen Dorflinger, President, James Fagan, Vice-President, and Stanley Knowlton, Secretary-Treasurer.

THE PERIWIG CLUB

THE Periwig Club, in spite of its loss to the Navy of Mr. Herrick, has had an unusually successful year. One of the main contributing factors to this success was the acquisition of Mr. Estey who did a brilliant piece of directing in the Fall Production. The other is, of course, none other than the Reverend Erdman Harris who has yet to disappoint a Lawrenceville audience, or any audience for that matter, and who produced not only the Spring show, but also the ultra modern Julius Caesar.

The Fall production was, as it usually is, a melodrama, and bore the perhaps euphemistic title of The Criminal at Large, its author being Mr. Edgar Wallace. It was a very well written thriller taking place in an ancestral castle in England. There was suspense and comic relief, mild lunacy, complete madness, and horror. It offered several really outstanding parts which were, happily, not only well cast, but also amazingly well portrayed.

Mrs. Groff played Lady Lebanon, a rather austere Englishwoman, carrying the study of her family tree to the extent that it becomes a mania. Her English is impeccable as is her stage presence and acting ability, and she made the part an excellent one. The only other female rôle was that of Isla, Lady Lebanon's niece, and was to have been played by Mrs. Estey who unfortunately fell ill the day before the first performance. Mrs. Harris heroically agreed to play the part on this extraordinarily short notice, and did so well that the audience forgot that she held the book in her hand. I attended several rehearsals of the play and want to say here that Mrs. Estey, too, would have made an outstanding Isla.

The largest and least sympathetically written part was that of Inspector Tanner. It was a very ill-defined rôle, and it was only through Doig's experienced acting that it became well worth notice. This was, incidentally, the first in a long series of triumphs that Doig has made acting on the stage and off. Perhaps the best written part of all was that of Lord Lebanon, the neurotic, introversive heir who suffers from hereditary insanity, and turns out eventually to be the strangler himself. Another newcomer to the Periwig stage—Fred Buechner—played this rôle, and his performance was excellent. He portrayed the transition of this character from a quiet, pensive young man, completely ruled by his mother, to a grotesque and homicidal lunatic, with great feeling, and held his audience spellbound in that scene where his madness first becomes apparent, and where he tells of his morbid exploits in the field of strangulation. Huyler Held as the bluff and boastful Sergeant Totty supplied some delightful comedy relief as the cockney policeman with aspirations to some sort of grandeur. Giles Eyre played the difficult part of Jenaby well, though it was an unsympathetic rôle. The production was given further polish by the acting of several of those who played bit parts. Notably good were John Atwood as Briggs, a snivelling little thief, James Merrill as Mr. Rawbane, Tom Stanley as Brooks, and Dick Conger as Gilder—both butlers in the Lebanon household. The whole cast deserves congratulations since this play was thought by many to be the best thing the Periwig had done for some years. Congratulations, too, should go to Mr. Estey who did an extraordinary piece of directing here. The play could have so easily been overdone in parts, but he used restraint as well as his own talent as an actor to make it a notable success.

For the first time in a good many years the Periwig decided to put on a Shakespearean tragedy for their winter performance, and Julius Caesar was chosen.

Bill Umstattd played Brutus with a great deal of feeling, and made him stand out, as he should, as the central character. He seemed to capture, as fully as anyone can, the nobility, the pathetic idealism, and the human gullibility of the man who, shortly before his death, said that he had known no man but who had been true to him. He acted the part with great restraint and nobility, and deserves high praise. Portia, his wife, was portrayed by Mrs. Harris, and the striking simplicity and the feeling of underlying emotion that became so evident in her scene with Brutus completely won over her audience, and left one wishing that the part had been a much larger one. Dick Conger put into Caesar just enough humanity to make one feel keenly sorrowful when the great warrior fell to the senate floor, the name of Brutus on his lips, and the spidery pattern of blood on his chest. His wife, Calpurnia, was done by Mrs. Page, and her scene with Caesar in which she tells him of her prophetic dream made the audience tensely aware of the ominous and foreboding atmosphere of the ides of March. Antony was played by Doig, and Cassius by Fred Buechner, and I shall merely quote from the Lawrence review of the play by Andy Underhill, L'40. "I think that the Periwig's Julius Caesar has brought to light two of the finest actors Lawrenceville has seen in many a year, Barry Doig and Fred Buechner. Both have that amorphous virtue of perfect stage presence, the basic but too seldom found requirement of a good actor. One always felt that each in his way had complete command of his part and was perfectly at home on the stage. They did not just 'act' their parts; they felt them and conveyed the reality of that feeling to the audience." The scenes including the minor parts of Cinna, played by James Merrill, Legarius and the soothsayer played by Pace Woods, Artemidorus and Octavius by James Blake, Metellus Cimber and Volumnius by Jim Tuck, Pindarus and a cobbler by Huyler Held, Titinius by Al Hydeman, went off very well with the possible exception of the mob scenes which were not so effective.

Though perhaps not so notable a success as The Criminal at Large, Julius Caesar made quite a hit, and was certainly one of the major achievements of the Periwig Club. Mr. Harris who directed, designed scenery, and composed music for this production, certainly deserves the heartiest congratulations.

For the Spring Prom Mr. Harris wrote one of his famous musicals, this one entitled All Through the Looking-Glass. The story was one of a Lawrenceville lad who, having been drafted, was made to undergo the ordeal of a physical examination. Something was apparently wrong with his teeth, and he had to pay a visit to the dentist where he was given gas. The rest of the story, except for the very end, deals with his dreams under ether. Geoffrey Doyle, Sam Lloyd and Barry Doig all took leads, and Whitlock, Frost and Doig each sang a solo and the chorus was composed of Glee Club members. Some of the best of Mr. Harris' songs for this were "A Sprinkling of Stars," "I Feel A Draft," "The Lower Room In Upper," "Julius Caesar" and "Sing It High—Sing It Low." It was received enthusiastically by a generally enthusiastic Prom audience, and will go down as one of the best in a long line of Harris classics.

Looking over this article, I realize that I have been so consistently generous with praise, that I am afraid that no reader will believe any of it, thinking it too good to be true. Strangely enough it is true, all of it, and this has indeed been one of the most successful years that the Periwig has known for some time. So far my compliments have all been dealt to the actors and directors, however, whereas a great deal of the praise should go to those boys of the stage crew, the electrical crew, the costume and makeup departments etc. who do the really hard work of getting a performance together, and get practically no glory at all.

Donald Dew, the Periwig's President, wants me to thank for him the executive board consisting of Art Karno (stage manager), Don Charles (property manager), Glen Dorflinger (actor's representative) and John Twohy (business manager) for the splendid cooperation which they all have given him during the year. He also wants to thank Bob Bennett (costume manager), S. J. Wright and Phil Pfeifer for the makeup; Bay Tilden and Baird Atwood for their help in directing the electrical crew. Then, too, thanks from myself and all those mentioned above to Donald Dew who, with an incomplete board, with the absence of a winter prom and with the scarcity of theatrical equipment, led the club through a most difficult year to a very successful ending. In departing, with the completion of the new stage, the purchase of a new Public Address system and the production of three good shows, the senior members of the club extend to those who will carry on next year, hearty thanks for a lot of fun, and best wishes for the best of luck in the time to come.

THE PIPE AND QUILL CLUB

IT IS to be felt that this the honorable assembly which comprises the Pipe and Quill Club has indulged in many and varied forms of literature for the purpose of learned and dignified discussion.

The author feels bold enough to state that the "literati" have aspired to great ambitions, some perhaps a little beyond their grasp. They have undertaken the task of writing a novel, each one of them contributing a chapter towards the compilation of this worthy manuscript. The result, if showing a mild form of confusion, violence, and sudden deaths, certainly brings out the sanguine and morbid thoughts which can, if sufficiently aroused, pour forth from this august company. Towards the middle of February this club, in joint session with its brother-in-books, the Bibliophile Club, had the novel and interesting experience of hearing a short talk delivered by Mr. MacKaffrie who is an editor of the Doubleday Doran Company. His subject was "Books and their Publishing."

Apart from this outstanding incident, the Club has carried on its activities in normal manner. The advisors and officers are to be thanked for their help, and the noble members praised for their faithful attendance and, with the help of gentle reminders, their prompt donations of the various contributions due.

THE BIBLIOPHILES CLUB

IN addition to carrying out its function of providing a focal point for book lovers, the Bibliophiles Club has probably done more this year in regard to manual work than in any previous year. Work in the library was made part of the regular school work program to allow members of the club to assist Mr. McPherson and his greatly depreciated staff to carry on their duties. Such things as shelving and checking in books and managing the library during the evenings were undertaken. In this plan each Bibliophile worked a minimum of one hour a week. Mr. McPherson and the staff instructed the members in the care and management of the library.

Again this year the annual book sale, conducted by the club, took place at Christmas. In addition to the usual fiction and non-fiction, the sale offered a variety of works pertaining to the war. This was a precedence which seemed popular with the school, as sales testified. However, the well-bound editions were fewer than in previous sales because their publication has been severely limited for the duration of the war. In their place more of the less expensive and more popular novels were sold.

Starting in September with a membership of six, the club was enlarged to fourteen during the course of the year. Meetings at Brook House added greatly to the pleasure and benefit of the club.

PARLONS FRANÇAIS

THIS, the 14th year of the Parlons Français Club, has been very successful even considering the restrictions. The Club was founded by Doctor Coderre in 1929 to give an opportunity to those who work to become more fluent in conversational French. Although the group has been smaller than in previous years, it has done comparatively much more work. Instead of taking trips to New York or Princeton to see French movies, the Club has been compelled to remain at home. Also, due to the small membership, the Club did not present a French play, which in other years has attracted a great deal of interest from the school and faculty intelligentsia.

It was decided at the beginning of the year that the discussions should be restricted to literature and the arts in order that the members might not only acquire fluency in the language but also some knowledge of the classics. The talks have been about painters, musicians, and writers. Seggerman and Soriano spoke on Ravel and Debussy respectively, each giving a criticism of their works and playing a few recorded selections. Loening did much the same sort of thing for Cesar Franck. Buechner delivered an interesting talk on the art of Toulouse-Lautrec, while another painter, Millet, was discussed by Soriano. Merrill and Elberfeld gave very interesting talks on Baudelaire and Conrad, respectively.

The officers of the Club were Jose Soriano, President and James Tuck, Secretary-Treasurer.

THE PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

PHOTOGRAPHY can be very helpful and provide a lot of fun to the amateur who pursues it. And, since all kinds of photography are being used in the Armed Forces, it would be an advantage to know something in the field. For these reasons, the Photography Club, led very aptly by President Dins Davis, has had as its goal this year, the promoting of interest and skill in the taking and processing of pictures, so that one might find new pleasures in the use of the camera and darkroom.

At the beginning of the year, it was decided to hold a contest every month; and by these contests the members would improve their pictures, since they could be judged on originality, exposure, composition, and the developing and enlarging. In order to get the photographs somewhat alike, assignments were handed out. Among these were: some aspect of life at Lawrenceville, a photograph pertaining to science, a portrait, and a picture of the school chapel.

Besides the contests there were also several talks and demonstrations by Dr. Hall on the technique of using the darkroom. These proved to be very interesting and constructive, especially to those who had been anxious to learn "How to do your Own."

Late this spring, the Photography Club will end its work by having the usual final contest and exhibit. In this way, all the knowledge and practical experience learned throughout the year can be put to use.

THE SPANISH CLUB

THE Spanish Club, now in its third year of existence, has maintained the high standards of its foundation in its customary bi-weekly meetings. Its purposes are varied: to create for the Latin American and Spanish the same atmosphere that they have at home where they may discuss topics in reference to their native countries; to create an interest in the American boy for the Spanish language; and lastly, to consolidate Pan-Americanism by acquainting American boys with Latin American customs and problems.

A great variety of topics about Spain, Cuba, Puerto Rico, and Venezuela were presented this year in speeches. The club decided to elect Dr. Eduardo Carrion as advisor to the club. He is from Ecuador and entered Lawrenceville last fall as a Spanish teacher. Dr. Carrion gave a talk about the importance of Pan-Americanism.

We have lost two of our members since the beginning of the year, our president, William Phelps, who entered Princeton, and Hely Galavis who entered the University of Missouri. Eugene Sardina, the vice-president, became the president for the second term. A. Mendez was the treasurer of the club, and M. Silveira, secretary.

We wish to thank the English Department and Mr. Raymond for lending the department room to us for our meetings.

THE GUN CLUB

THE Gun Club, under the guidance of Mr. Page and Mr. Martin, is now in its sixth year. Elected as officers this year were Hawke, J., President, McAllister, Vice-President, Zinderstein, Secretary, and Munn, Treasurer. Because of the difficulty in transportation, the club with its membership of twenty-five has not competed in many meets this year.

The only meet in which the club has participated is the bi-annual Choate match, which it lost by a very close margin. The Lawrenceville team was composed of Munn, McAllister, Elkin, Lewis, and Sibbernsen. Since this was the first meet in which the latter three had participated, they were entitled to the club insignia.

The particular service which the club has been able to render this year is the instituting of a deflectional gunnery course. This course affords basic training in shooting moving targets. The course follows that used by the Army and Navy in instructing aerial gunners. Mr. Page gave both lectures and personal instruction to fifteen students.

The club now has four permanent trophies, The Handicap Cup, The Lower School Handicap Cup, the award for the highest sustained average, and the award to the boy who has shown the greatest interest in club activities. This spring, in spite of limiting conditions, the club looks forward to several matches with outside teams.

RADIO CLUB

IN its second year of existence, the Radio Club has made considerable progress towards becoming an important Lawrenceville institution. The war has done a little to limit activities, especially in the form of actual transmission. In spite of this difficulty, the club has accomplished a great deal.

Firstly, the "shack" was moved from the Laboratory to the basement of Pop Hall. Here in a much larger room, a table was built with partitioned sections for the reception and transmission of Morse Code. An instructor's desk holding the equipment completed a project outlined according to the Army Signal Corps specifications. New material in the form of a better oscillator, an automatic tape sender, and Army code records were purchased. Classes were held in this room three times a day from its completion until the end of the year.

In addition, Mr. Rosner conducted a series of radio theory classes once a week in which the fundamentals necessary for amateur licenses were presented. Interested students attended these classes until a depletion of masters in the Science Department forced their discontinuance.

The experience offered and gained throughout the year was especially worthwhile and vital. The war demands a large reservoir of civilian-trained operators; the Radio Club did its part in giving to its members the fundamentals of theory and construction, and did a great deal in turning out a few boys able to handle Morse Code efficiently.

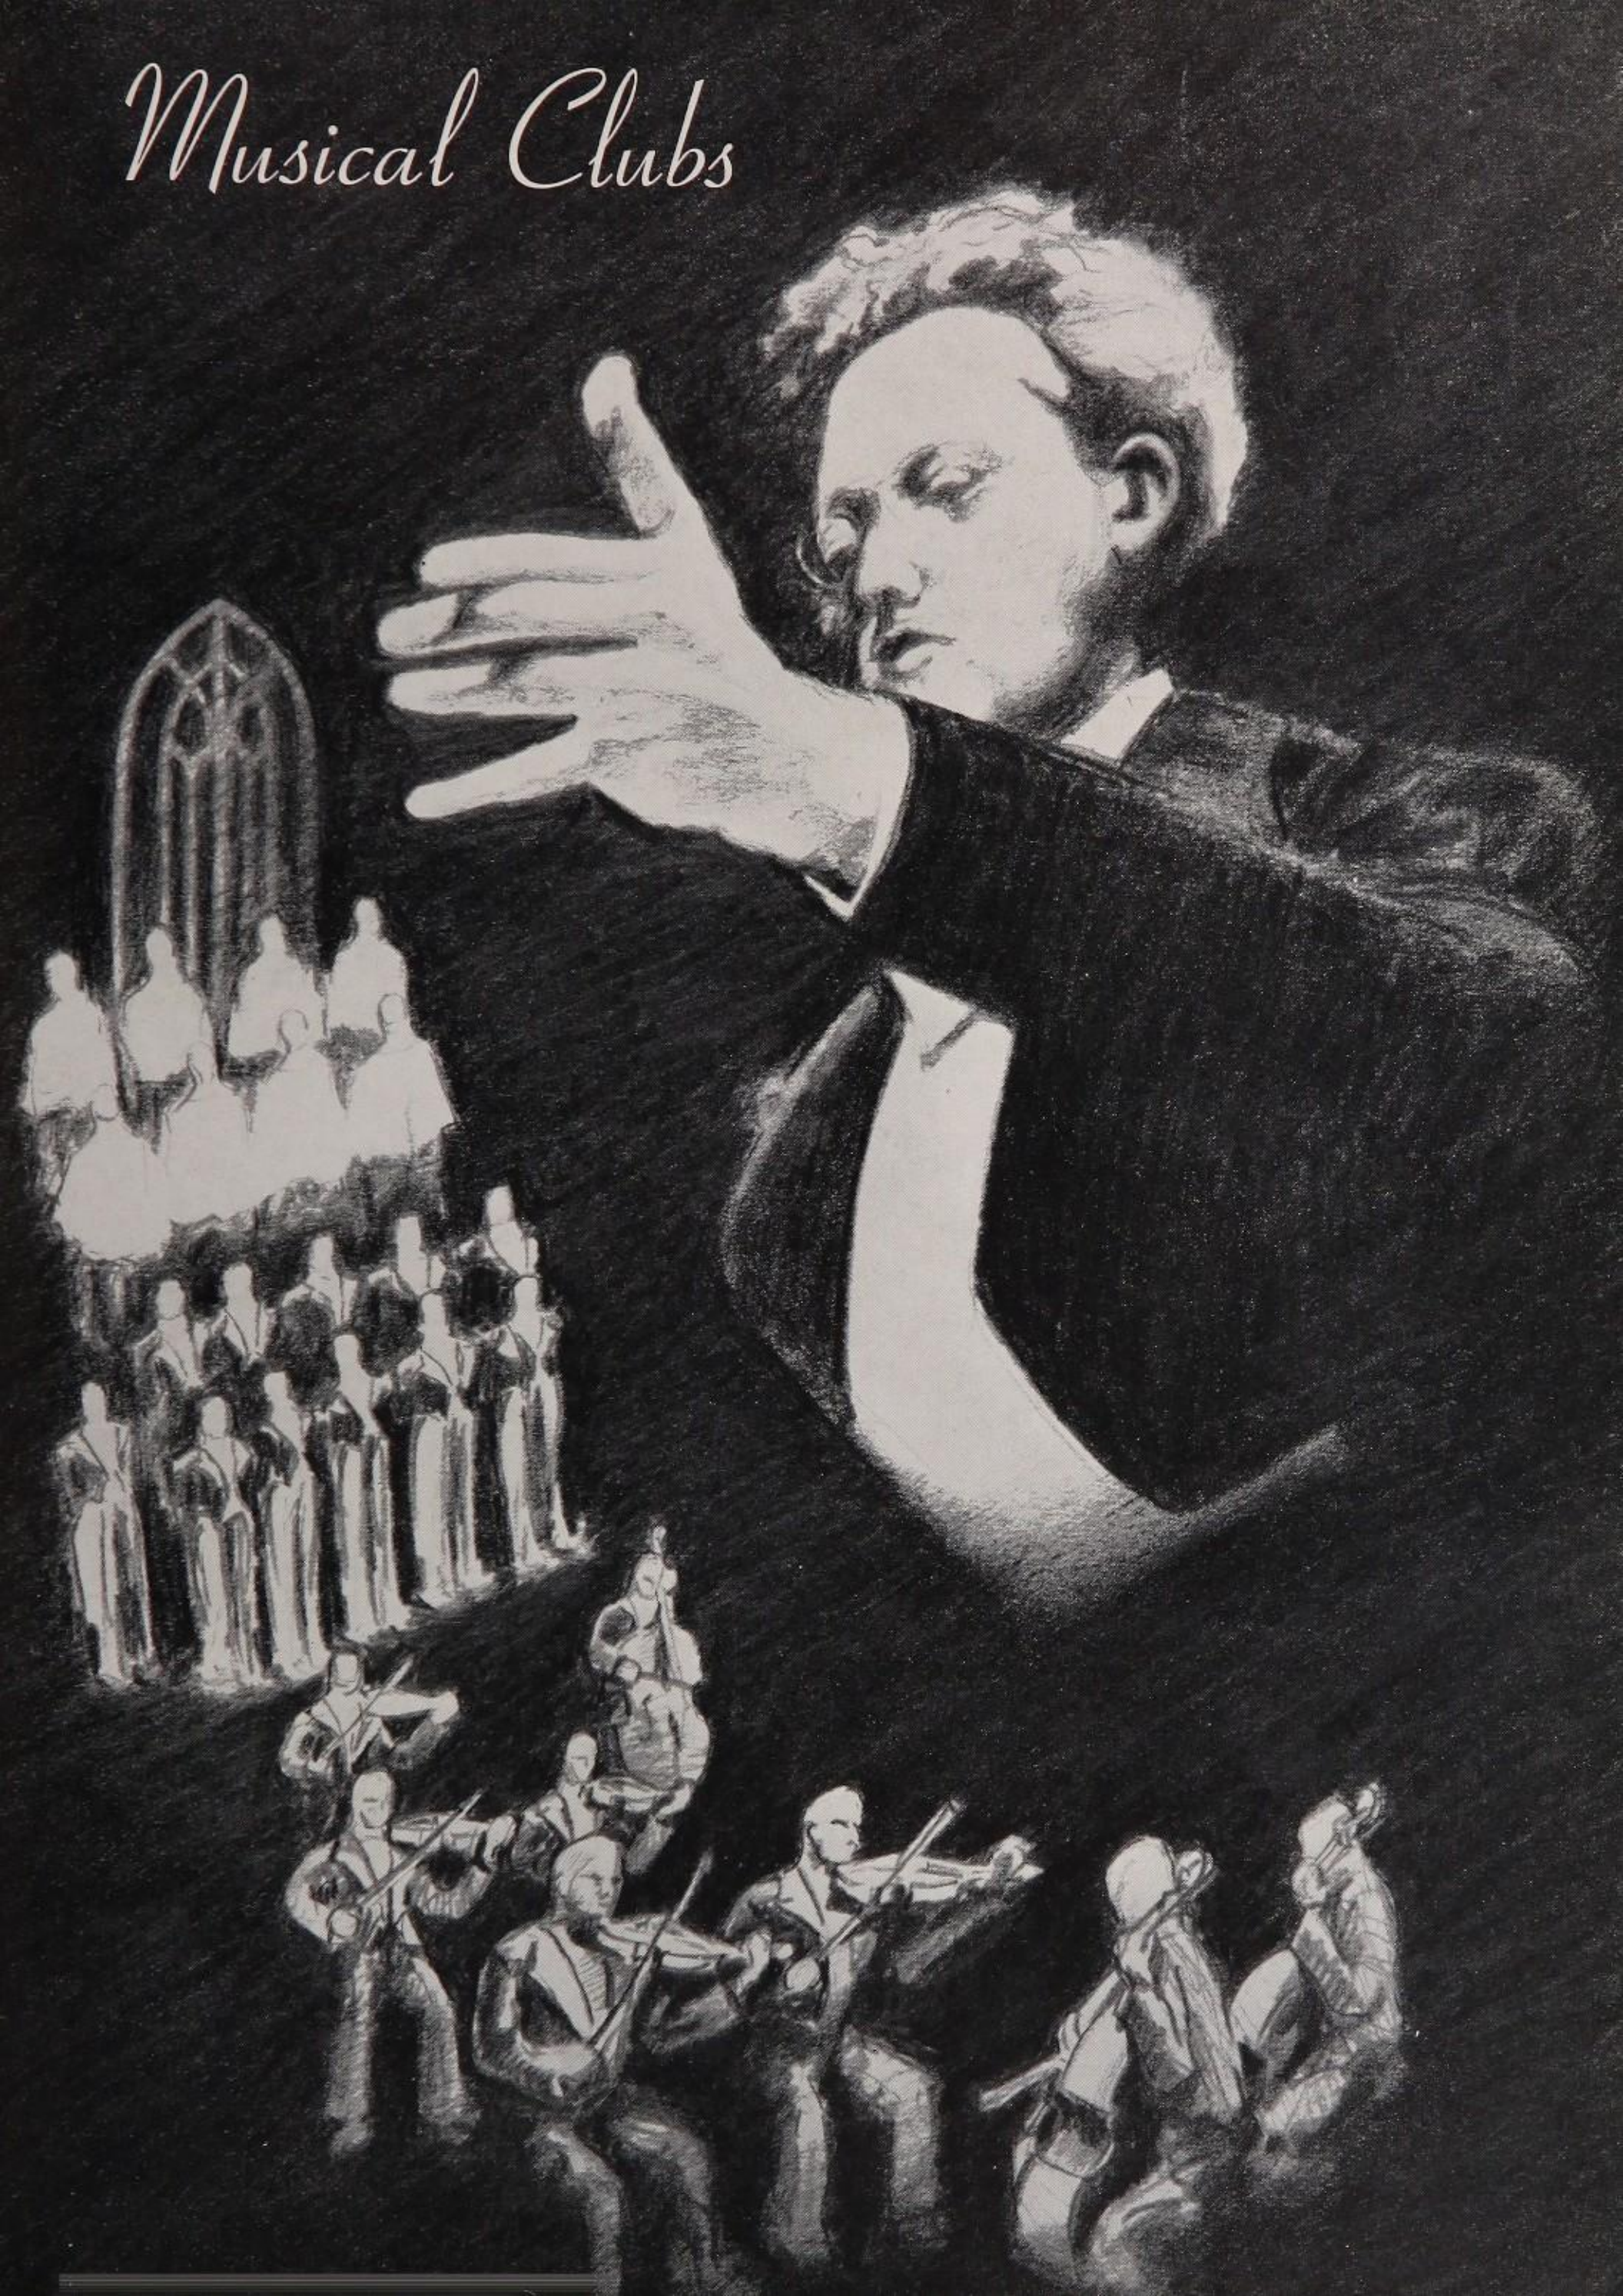
Musical Clubs

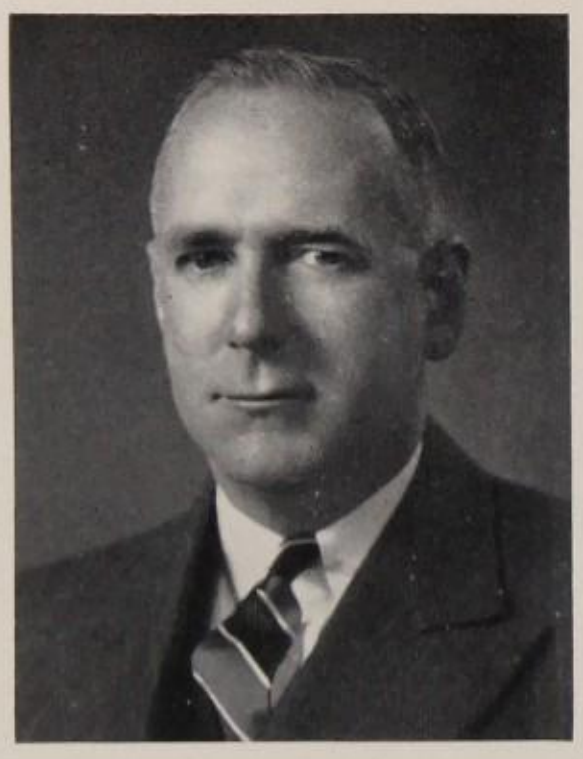


MUSICAL CLUBS

WARTIME restrictions failed to dampen the ardor and enthusiasm with which the musical clubs performed before the school and as many out-of-town audiences as conditions permitted. A maximum of success and pleasure was achieved before the necessarily few, and certainly there is no member of this year's clubs who will not vouch that the efforts which he invested in his organization were not amply repaid with interest in the form of enjoyment and satisfaction.

The field band was the first of the Musical Clubs to perform and did so, as usual, before the school during the football games. Led by Mr. Warren, this organization performed creditably throughout its season.

At the commencement of the year, Don Whitlock, the school's outstanding bass, was elected student leader of the Glee Club, while Bowmar van der Voort received the nomination of manager. At that time, the Glee Club and Choir were in careful preparation for a joint performance to be given before the Princeton Colored Baptist Church, which was the first public appearance of these organizations. Among the selections played by the Glee Club were the negro spirituals "Steal Away" and "Roll, Jordan, Roll," and a baritone solo by Ralph Frost of "Serenade," accompanied by a background furnished by the Glee Club. The Choir likewise presented an excellent selection of "Ave Maria."



Director Keller

Whereupon, the orchestra, coached and led by Mr. Barati, and the Glee Club, conducted by Mr. Keller, began a long and arduous period of preparation for the first of the joint concerts to be held with Miss Fine's School, of Princeton. And both organizations reached their peak in the opening recital which took place at the Lawrenceville gymnasium. The orchestra's rendition of "Triumphal March" was genuinely impressive, and the performance showed the effect of Mr. Barati's long and protracted surveillance. Dawson Smith, violin virtuoso, was appointed student leader of the orchestra, and served as exemplary guidance to his fellow members by virtue of his outstanding work.

The Glee Club likewise drew much praise for its performance. Among the selections were three sea chanteys and the Negro spirituals played in Princeton. The last number presented was one which Mr. Keller included much against his better judgment, "Old Man Noah." However, he was much surprised, the audience gratified, and the Club members genuinely amazed when this number was delivered with a style and quality that had never been achieved in rehearsals. A dance then followed in which the Club members and girls from Miss Fine's participated.

A return engagement was then scheduled with the same school at Princeton. As before, all three clubs participated, and, as may be judged from the manner in which their efforts were received, the performances were more than satisfactory. The orchestra had acquired considerable polish in its practice period, and the musicians showed greater confidence than previously. Mr. Keller, as usual, no doubt experienced uncomfortable moments before the singing began, but again the quality of delivery surpassed anything shown in rehearsals, and his fears were allayed.

Thus we have in its entirety the Musical Clubs' activities up to press time. A visit to Fort Dix is being anticipated and looked forward to, and perhaps one more not yet specifically defined. We of the organizations themselves may only hope that our performances, however lacking in quality they may have been, have in some slight measure repaid the ample and sincere efforts of Messrs. Keller, Barati, and Warren.

THE CONCERT CLUB

THE Concert Club is an organization made up of boys who are interested in serious music. It holds frequent meetings and provides public concerts in the Library every Sunday morning. Its purpose is to bring a greater and more vital appreciation of classical music to the whole school.

The Concert Club began the year with a membership of nine. Dr. Hall, the faculty advisor, was forced to leave the school shortly after Christmas, and for the rest of the Winter Term the club operated without an advisor. However, at the beginning of the Spring Term, Mr. Park, the latest addition to the faculty and assistant master of Dickinson House, was appointed advisor and has succeeded in filling Dr. Hall's position admirably.

Rodney Armstrong of the Raymond House served as president during the past year, and is to be congratulated on the excellent job of management and leadership he has performed. His efficiency was particularly valuable during the winter term when there was no faculty advisor. He merits much credit.

The record concerts given by the club this year were most effective and very well received. Most of the members had an opportunity to plan the program of at least one concert, and the group, as a whole, managed to keep their degree of interest at a high level.

CROMWELL HOUSE HISTORY

UNDER the capable guidance of Mr. Shipman, the Cromwell House began the eventful year of 1942-43 well. The council, elected at the beginning of the year, consisted of: Jim Dean, President; Dave Woodward, Vice-President; Charlie Roy, Secretary; Herb Schiff, Treasurer; and Bob Brawner, Historian.

Last spring, the golf team, captained by Kadel, won the cup. The baseball, track, and tennis teams did not fare as well.

The first athletic achievement this year was the winning of the "Nicholson Bucket" early last fall for the Field Day Events.

On the Junior Football Team, Giles, Roy, and Wallace won their numerals while Barney, Clarke, Dean, du Pont, Howar, Smith, and Woodward won their house letters. The house football team, captained by Jack Arthur won only one out of six games.

The Blue and Gold soccer team had a victorious season. Much of the credit should go to Al Miranda, our coach, and Ben Harper, the captain.

The swimming team consisted of Clarke, Gerdes, Freeman, and Howar. Because of so many "out of Exercises," there has been no meet. The basketball team, sparked by Orser, came in second. The wrestlers were du Pont, Poor, Schiff, and Leeds.

Cromwell was well represented in extra-curricular activities. Almost everyone was in someway connected with the Dramatic Club. Orser, Smith, and Dean were the only actors in the play. Duryee was one of the editors, and Dean and Woodward were two associate editors on the "Recorder." The printers of Cromwell were Howar, Giles, and Brawner; White, Howar, Parsons, Clarke, Arthur, and Orser supported the Drum and Bugle Corps. The reading committee included Dean, Arthur, and Leeds.

Cromwell's scholastic high-lights at mid-years were Knowlton and Leeds. Knowlton was the only one who had an eighty average at the quarterly report.

To Mr. Shipman we are all greatly indebted for his help and advice.

DAVIDSON HOUSE HISTORY

DAVIDSON began this year with the only returning house master in Lower School, Mr. Sanville. The House was headed by a fine council consisting of Eb Gaines, president, Stew Brown, vice-president, Gonzalo Mendez, Thornton Hough, treasurer, and Norm Rogers, historian.

In sports this year Davidson did fairly well. The football team came in second under the leadership of co-captains Rogers and Hough. Five boys were on the Junior Team, Stew Brown, Eb and George Gaines, Snyder and Wilson.

The house also placed in the soccer season, led by Captain Stew Brown and coached by Meredith. Brown played an excellent game during the entire season and a great deal of credit should also go to the goalie, Eb Gaines.

Swimming was won for the second consecutive year. Wilson, Evans, and Wahl comprised the team. In the other winter sports Davidson performed creditably. They won the basketball championship for the fourth year in a row with Eb Gaines as their captain. Davidson gave a good turnout to wrestling by entering five boys; the top boys in their respective divisions were Hough and Ogden, who both did a fine job against good competition.

In activities Davidson ranked at the top of Lower School. The "Recorder" had several Davidsonites on its staff, as did the Reading Committee, the Dramatic Club, and most of the other activities in Lower.

Scholarship showed the house better than average; in fact, Davidson ranked second in the school at the Mid-Year report. Much of the credit for this achievement should go to Bob Pickett, whose ability to get a ninety average pulled the house average up immensely. Bo Wilson, George Gaines, and Jack Belding also had very commendable records in scholarship.

The whole house is deeply indebted to Mr. Sanville for his unrelenting efforts for the good of the boys and the house.

PERRY ROSS HOUSE HISTORY

UNDER the guidance of a new master, Mr. Norval F. Bacon, Jr., and an able council, Perry Ross has what seems to be the leading house in Lower School.

After the boys had settled down and knew each other, house elections were held. The results were as follows: President, George Hawke; Vice-President, Joseph Taylor; Secretary, Jean Paul Vanden Hoeck; Treasurer, A. J. Miranda; Historian, C. Anthony Buckley.

Meanwhile, football season had gotten under way. In this sport Perry Ross was quite a bit ahead of the other houses. Ross had thirteen men on the Junior Football Team, seven of which won their numerals. Though handicapped by this, the house team won the championship of Lower School. With the line fighting hard under Line-Captain Bob Wells and the backfield running smoothly under Bruce Hotchkiss and Captain Buckley, the team finished off a sparkling undefeated season with a smashing victory over their chief rival, Davidson.

In soccer season, though fighting hard under Captain Harry Gropp, the house team did not do well. The only time it showed its ability was in the game in which it defeated Cromwell, the champions. In basketball the same thing occurred. Harry Gropp was an able captain, but the team could not get together. Last year in baseball Ross managed to place second under Captain Bill Drake.

In scholarship Ross again was the leader having at mid-years six boys with eighty averages and five with seventy-five averages.

Ross was well represented in extra-curricular activities, having Pete Miranda, Warren Webster, Dick Ehret, and Bob Bernhardt on the "Recorder"; Miranda and Walter Deitz in the Model Club; Miranda, Frenchy Vanden Hoeck, and Walter Dietz as printers.

With the house points acquired in scholarship, extra-curricular activities, and sports, Ross is well ahead in the race for the All-Round Trophy.

In behalf of the council and the rest of the boys, I want to thank Mr. Bacon for a very successful and enjoyable year.

THOMAS HOUSE HISTORY

IN the fall of 1942, Thomas House started the year by electing the following boys to the house council: George Glatfelter, President; Bob Kadel, Vice-President; Colby Swan, Secretary; Frank Brunner, Treasurer; and John Crawford, Historian.

Under the captaincy of Pat White, Thomas placed third in football, but produced excellent players in Jones, Kadel, Neuweiler, Rolston, Swan, and Captain White. Our thanks to Mr. Crowley for his efforts in producing such a commendable team. Thomas had the following boys on the Junior Squad: Glatfelter, Brunner, Hinshaw, Nelson, and Crawford. Thomas also placed third in soccer under the able coaching of Johnny Ross. Captain Godfrey Nelson played brilliantly all season.

Because of lack of experience and of height, Thomas did not fare so well in basketball. The team was captained by Crawford, while Neuweiler was the high scorer. Moeser, Webster, Toledano, Hydeman, Hinshaw, and Captain Rooke made up the swimming team. In Rooke, Thomas has an excellent diver. The house wrestling team was made up of Rolston, McCardell, Pater, and Glatfelter. Rolston went with the Junior Team to George, but he was defeated there.

Thomas is now looking forward to winning its second consecutive baseball trophy. Last Spring, Thomas won the championship with Dave Kuizenga as captain, while Bull, Young, and Kuizenga were the stars. Forbes represented Thomas on the Junior Baseball Team.

Scholastically, Thomas suffered a considerable drop at first, but showed a remarkable improvement in the first report following mid-years. Rolston, McCardell, and Nelson have been the most consistent honor boys.

In extra-curricular activities, Thomas contributed most to the Drum and Bugle Corps and to the Dramatic Club. A dozen drummed or bugled, while seven were on the "Penrod" cast, including Merritt, who played the lead. Thomas also had a number of willing workers backstage. The house was also well represented in the Print Shop, Model Shop, Workshop, and "Recorder."

We wish to thank Mr. Crowley for his efforts in making the house a unit of good fellowship and sportsmanship this year.

THE RECORDER

THE Lower School "Recorder" has produced eight issues and a year book this year. The staff has done a truly remarkable job with the aid of their faculty advisor, Mr. Bacon. A great deal of originality has been shown this year in the paper. The first issue contained many mistakes and some poor printing, but the second issue was much improved, and each subsequent one over the last, as the printers and typist became more and more experienced. The paper was tremendously hindered at the beginning by the fact that all last year's editors had gone to Circle, leaving no one with experience to take over. The staff quickly grew and now includes Rogers, Ehret, Miranda, Duryee, and Webster as Associate Editors, while Bernhard, Keith, Hawke, Gaines, G., and Hotchkiss are staff writers and Woodward and Dean handle the printing.

The Christmas issue of the "Recorder" was probably the best of the year. The six page issue contained many excellent articles besides a title in red.

The "Recorder" has done well in its job to inform Lower of happenings and has kept many an old Lower Schooler in touch with his former house.

LOWER SCHOOL DRAMATICS

THE Lower School Dramatic Club had another successful season which was highlighted by the fall production, Penrod. The Spring Plays, In the Zone and The Ghost of Jerry Bundler met with success also.

Penrod consisted of a three-act play. The plot of this play revolved about Penrod's "deteketif" agency and his capture of a crook. Penrod was played excellently by Pete Orser, while Bob Wechsler did an outstanding job as the father.

About sixty boys from the upper school attended the performance on the first night and it is certain that they enjoyed every minute of it.

The Spring Plays, given on April 2 and 3, also met with success. In the Zone revolves about a little black box found in a cabin aboard a British ammunition ship in the First World War. The box, owned by a German spy suspect, is thought to be a bomb. After much suspense, the box is opened—the contents, only a few love letters of a broken man.

The second play, The Ghost of Jerry Bundler, deals with a supposedly haunted English inn. Whit Franzheim and Bill Merritt did exceptionally good jobs of acting.

The play, which was under the direction of Mr. Sanville, was well chosen, well acted and very well received.

THE PRINT SHOP

THIS year the Lower School Print Shop was both remodelled and enlarged. Early in the fall a new press and various kinds of type were obtained. The new press is a great improvement over the old as it can be operated both by hand and by machine. Some boys made their own stationery and the results were quite extraordinary.

The program for the first Dramatic Club production, "Penrod," was printed by the Print Shop, and from the name of the play they named their press, The Penrod Press. The shop also made the program for the second Dramatic Club Productions and three different colors were used.

The leading members of the Press are John Vanden Hoeck and Peter Miranda, who get credit for much of the success of the organization. Mr. Nicholson has been supervisor of the club and has been very much interested in its development. The other members of the Print Shop who have contributed a lot of their time to the organization are Brawner, Dietz, Harper, Giles, Swan, Kadel, Hydeman, and Gerdes.

The importance of the shop cannot be overstressed. It gives its members excellent experience in the field of printing. As a group they have done a good job, an example for the future printers of the Penrod Press.

LOWER SCHOOL FOOTBALL, 1942

THIS year's Lower School Football Trophy was won by an undefeated Ross team under Captain Buckley. An 80 yard run by Bruce Hotchkiss, who intercepted a pass in the last minutes of play gave Ross her first win against Thomas by the score of 13-12. In her second game, Ross defeated Cromwell by the score of 19-0. Hotchkiss, on two long runs, made two of the tallies for Ross; while Captain Buckley scored the other one. Ross in her third game, on a pass from Buckley to Crawford, beat Davidson by a long run. Ross came within shooting distance of the title when she defeated Thomas 13-6. A long pass from Buckley to Nelson gave Ross her first score. Buckley, intercepting a pass, scored the second touchdown. In their fifth football game, Ross clinched the title by crushing a Cromwell team 27-6. To keep their record clean, Ross then went on to defeat Davidson 24-0. This is the second time in the last three years that Ross has won the title.

Davidson took second place only losing to Ross twice and Cromwell once. In her first game Davidson beat Cromwell 19-12. Next they beat Thomas 13-6. In the third game, however, they lost to Ross by a lone tally. Then Cromwell trounced them 26-25. Although losing the next game to Ross 24-0, Davidson ended up the season by beating Thomas 18-0.

Thomas took third place, with Cromwell coming in last.

JUNIOR FOOTBALL TEAM, 1942

BECAUSE of the difficulties of transportation only two of the Juniors' scheduled games were able to be played, Trenton and Peddie School. However, three others were made up with the Circle House Scrubs. As a result they finished a fairly good season, winning two, tying one, and losing the remaining two. The main offensive power of the Lawrenceville team was built around Ben Harper and Stew Brown, while the defense starred Eb Gaines, Joe Taylor, Harry Gropp, and George Hawke.

The first game was played on Mother's Day against a heavier and more experienced Trenton team. As a result, the Juniors bowed to Trenton, 39-7. Lawrenceville's only tally was made on a succession of sleepers.

The next game against the Circle House scrubs proved favorable for the Juniors, winning 7-0. Ben Harper made the only score early in the first quarter on an end sweep.

Their only away game, with Peddie, was lost only by the slight margin of the conversion, the final score being 7-6 in favor of Peddie School.

In the two final games, the Juniors played the Circle House Scrubs, winning the first 7-0, and tying the second, 0-0.

LOWER SCHOOL BASKETBALL, 1942

THE undefeated Davidson House basketball team won the 1943 Lower School basketball championship by winning nine straight games. Cromwell was in runner-up position with Perry Ross and Thomas finishing in that order.

In the first round, Davidson, showing their fine play, routed Cromwell, 30-8 while Ross took a close game from Thomas, 16-14. In the second round, Davidson defeated last place Thomas by a score of 36-8 as Cromwell, sparked by Orser, won from Perry Ross. Paced by the Gaines brothers, Davidson continued their winning streak by routing Ross to the tune of 30-9 while Thomas was defeated by Cromwell, 28-16 to end the third round.

The fourth round found Thomas, paced by Neuweiler, defeating Ross in a surprise upset, 18-17, while Davidson continued at the expense of Cromwell, 25-9. In the fifth round Davidson and Cromwell were the victors over Ross and Thomas while the same two teams were again the winners over Thomas and Ross in the sixth round.

In the seventh round, Davidson defeated Cromwell, 25-11, while Ross avenged herself against Thomas. Davidson nailed down the championship with its victory over Thomas in the eighth round and Cromwell beat Ross. In the final round Davidson defeated Ross to remain undefeated; Thomas lost a hard fight to Cromwell, 23-20.

LOWER SCHOOL TRACK, 1942

THE Lower School Track Meet started out with Sam Clark of Davidson taking first place in the 70 yard hurdles, with the time of 11 seconds. Drake and Miller, both of Ross, tied for second place. In the 100 and 220 yard dashes, McMillan and Foster of Ross took first and second respectively in each. In the relay Cromwell, with Kadel, Highley, duPont, and Elkin, took first place with the time of 55.3 seconds. Thomas was second and Ross third.

Meanwhile in the field events, Forbes of Thomas had taken first in the high jump with a 5 foot jump, 2 inches short of the record, and first place also in the broad jump with 18′, 14″. Neiley of Ross took second in the high jump and Highley of Cromwell took the same in the broad jump.

In the pole vault, Applegate of Cromwell took first with 7′, and Bull of Thomas got second with 6′ 6″. Lavino of Ross took first in the shot put with a heave of 36′, 9″. Daughtridge of Thomas got second place with 35′, 3″.

When all the scores had been made out, it was found that Ross had won with 27 points, Thomas had taken second with 22, and Cromwell third with 21. House letters were awarded in Ross to McMillan, Foster, and Lavino; in Thomas to Forbes; in Cromwell, to Applegate, Highley, Kadel, du Pont, and Elkin; and in Davidson to Sam Clark.

JUNIOR BASEBALL, 1942

THE 1942 Junior Baseball team led by Captain Dave McMillan managed to win 4 of its 10 games. Paced by the excellent pitching of George Hawke, and Moe Kinnan, and by the exceptional batting of Ray Forbes and Ben Harper, the team trounced George School twice, and in a hard fought game beat Peddie.

Losing twice to Trenton No. 2, 6-3, and 7-3, and twice also to Trenton No. 4, 7-1, and 5-3, the team's encounters with Trenton teams were anything but good. The latter was an exceptionally close game, being determined in the last inning.

Playing a return match with the Lawrenceville J.V.'s, who were formerly routed in a practice game, the Juniors lost 11-6, their rally in the seventh inning coming too late.

Two of the victories were chalked up against George, the first a shut out, 11-0, and the second an easy win, 14-5.

Peddie exchanged victories in two games with the Juniors, winning the first game 13-2, and the second, a victory for Peddie.

The team was much indebted to Mr. Nicholson by whose coaching they had profited much.

LOWER SCHOOL BASEBALL, 1942

ALL-AROUND fine play by a well-balanced nine brought the Lower School Baseball championship to the Thomas House this year. Suffering but one defeat, and that by a one-run decision to Ross, the Thomasites experienced but little difficulty in sweeping over the opposition with exemplary pitching by Young providing the outstanding contribution to their success. Davidson managed to secure second place in the standings, Ross, third, and Cromwell, fourth.

The opening games saw the future champions ride to an easy 24-1 triumph over Cromwell, as their opponents portrayed little in the way of hitting and fielding. Davidson at the same time overcame Ross. Thomas progressed farther as she then routed Ross, 13-7, while Davidson humbled Cromwell, 20-5. Davidson then provided the champions staunch opposition until the final inning, when a spirited rally produced the margin of victory for the Thomasites, 16-11. At the same time Ross overwhelmed Cromwell.

The second round saw the first upset inflicted as Bill Drake pitched Ross to a surprise 7-6 triumph over Thomas. Varlay, of Davidson, did equally well in humbling Cromwell, 17-8. Thomas then virtually clinched the title as Young turned in a superlative job for a 20-3 conquest of Cromwell; Davidson and Ross battled to a tie. Then came the final game of the season in which Thomas, as expected, rode to an 8-3 victory over Davidson to annex the title.

LOWER SCHOOL SOCCER, 1942

CROMWELL emerged with the soccer championship this year after winding up her season with a record of four victories, one loss, and a single tie. Harper was the big gun for the winners, at one point scoring as many as 3 of his team's goals. Davidson maintained second place in the standings; Thomas was third, and Ross was last.

The first competition of the opening round saw Cromwell blank Thomas on a score by Wallace, 1-0. At the same time, Davidson and Ross struggled to a 1-1 tie.

Harper took over for Cromwell in her second successful contest as he notched his three goals to lead his team to a 4-2 conquest of Ross. A chance goal enabled Thomas to humble Davidson, 2-1.

The champions continued on their winning ways with a 1-0 shutout of Davidson on a solo score by Wallace. In the meantime, Thomas tied with Ross, 1-1.

Another outstanding scoring feat featured the opening of the second round to no avail, as Nelson's two goals were not enough to prevent Ross' defeat at the hands of Thomas, 3-2. The future champions from Cromwell then experienced their first surprise in the form of a 1-1 tie with Davidson. Two overtime periods failed to produce a result. The eventual winners were then further humbled, 2-1, by Ross, but quickly rebounded and clinched the title by routing Thomas, 6-1. Davidson, at the same time, climbed into second place with a 1-0 conquest of Ross.

LOWER SCHOOL GOLF, 1942

THE Lower School golf championship was captured by a powerful Cromwell team under the captaincy of George Kadel. In the preliminaries Cromwell played Thomas while Ross fought Davidson. For Cromwell, Kadel and Highley won their matches from Kuizenga and Robertshaw respectively. Confort, however, lost to Young. Ross won all her matches. McMillan beat McAuliffe, Miller won from Lawson-Johnston, and Leh beat Galbraith. These results put Cromwell and Ross in the finals for the championship.

In the finals Kadel nosed out Miller to be the only undefeated golfer on the Cromwell squad. Highley, however, was conquered by McMillan, 4 up. Confort came through to beat Leh, thus clinching the title for Cromwell. Much of the credit for Cromwell's successes was due to the fine play of Kadel.

LOWER SCHOOL TENNIS, 1942

IN the first round of the house tennis; Thomas was matched against Ross; and Davidson against Cromwell. At the end of the first round, Davidson and Thomas were on top. The whole Thomas team won their matches: Welling defeating Albee easily, 6-2, 6-0; Bull defeating Wells, 6-1, 6-1; and the doubles, Barry and Forbes, overcoming the Ross opponents. Davidson won her singles but dropped her doubles. The second round found Welling pitted against Koeser, Brown against Bull, and the Thomas doubles opposing Braverman and Dyckman. Koeser completely swamped Welling, 6-0, 6-3; but Bull made up for it in beating Brown, 6-1, 6-1. The match now depended on the doubles. Barry and Forbes, after a very tight match, overcame Dyckman and Braverman, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5, thus clinching the trophy for Thomas.

Faith in Our America

Faith may be just a word, until a time of desperate need comes. Then, from what a man believes in, comes his sustaining faith.

Our country faces foes that threaten the destruction of freedom throughout the world.

But faith in our America is stronger than ever. We will keep it endurable and we will endure, to help make all men free. We can do this because we are of America.

A Picture We've Framed for 5,000,000 Mothers

This is an American.

The steps he is standing on are the steps to the train that will take him away to war. As he waves farewell, he makes a picture that will live forever in a mother's heart—a picture which has its counterpart in the hearts and memories of 5,000,000 mothers all over the nation.

Once he boards his train, there is nothing too good for this soldier-to-be; no accommodations too luxurious; no food too nourishing and appetizing; no reasonable favors too hard to grant. Compared to service men in other lands, he lives and rides like a king!

America's railroads are grateful for the leading role they have been able to play in this life drama. The knowledge that they are able to transport this boy, and millions like him, swiftly, safely, and most comfortably to military destinations, is ample compensation for years of planning and preparedness.

So we would like to offer this, a second picture, for the mothers of America to carry in their hearts: a picture of your sons after they've said goodbye—starting on life's greatest adventure among friends, and in the care of American railroad men who consider their happiness, health, and well-being a sacred trust.
